MAN EATERS PREY ON CHINESE

Ten Injured in Easton During Week by Beasts Near City of Swatow

HONGKONG, June 15. (AP)—Dispatches to the Hongkong Telegraph from Swatow, Kwangtung, today said that for the first time in many years man-eating beasts have terrorized districts within a 100-mile radius of that city.

"In the past week," the dispatch said, "beasts have mauled or eaten ten persons. One girl was sent to a hospital. As a result one tiger has been slain and entire villages are being organized to hunt for the marauders."

LIGHT RAIN FAILS TO AID HONGKONG

Water Famine Continues and City Plans to Scatter Chemical in Clouds

HONGKONG (China) June 15. (AP)—Hongkong's danger from shortage of water continued tonight when a heavy rainfall which the Weather Bureau had hoped would last all night, stopped at 3 o'clock.

The rainfall lasted only a few hours and the precipitation was not sufficient to alter the condition of the city's water supply.

The government vigorously pushed emergency measures. The weather observatory and Royal Air Force intend to undertake rain-making experiments shortly. Two planes will mount above the clouds and sprinkle them with a powdered chemical known as dolomite. The chemical has a refrigerating effect which is hoped will start a heavy rain.

The government has chartered a tanker to transport water from Kowloon, New Canton. The Dollar liner, President Adams today brought a consignment of water from Shanghai.

Another ship brought in 1000 tons of water which was promptly turned into emergency tanks and distributed to the public. The supply was quickly exhausted.

SPAIN FETES AIR HEROES

Paris Hop to be Made Today

Yellow Bird Crew Forgives Stowaway and He Will Finish Trip

Intense Cold, Heavy Rain and Down Drafts Made Flight Perilous

COMILLAS (Spain) June 15. (AP)—The French trans-Atlantic plane Yellow Bird took off at 6:45 a.m. (1:45 a.m. E.S.T.) for Paris to complete its flight from Old Orchard, Maine. A perfect take-off was made.

COMILLAS (Spain) June 15. (AP)—The three flying musketeers of France, Assolant, Lefevre and Lotti, remained tonight for another sleep on Spanish soil before going on to Paris, goal of their flight across the Atlantic Ocean from America.

The Yellow Bird is scheduled to soar away from the beach at Oriamonte, at 5 a.m., tomorrow (midnight E. S. T.) taking up again its journey from the haven where it alighted at the end of its trans-Atlantic trip last night.

By cutting across a corner of the Bay of Biscay the flyers will be over the soil of France within a little less than an hour after leaving Oriamonte.

On their way to Paris they will stop for gasoline at Caux flying field near Bordeaux and then continue to Le Bourget field.

Repairs to the Yellow Bird, which were made by Spanish mechanics this afternoon, were of a minor character but sufficient to delay the departure of the flying musketeers. They made good use of the time which was at first thought to be their last departure for Paris, and returned shortly afterward.

STOWAWAY TO RIDE ALONG Arthur Schreiber, American stowaway, on the big Bernard monoplan, remained with the French aviators and will be taken by them to Paris.

Comillas could not let the occasion slip by without a celebration, and as there wasn't time to organize a formal one last night, it was decided to have one tonight. The celebration was made on the ship's deck and the passengers and crew participated in the festivities.

Schreiber was invited along with the three aviators who have recognized themselves to his presence and will accompany them to Paris.

Although needed for dry soil, its lateness brought reports of split cherries where they were ready for picking; some mildew among grapes and damage to June hay. No grapes were available on monetary losses.

In the mountains the wet weather was a boon to dry timber and was reported by State Forester Pratt to have been of much good in warding off the danger of forest fires.

In San Francisco showers aggregated half an inch tonight, the June total to three-quarters of an inch, the heaviest since 1907, and with the exception of June, 1904, the heaviest on record.

Precipitation in inches reported by northern stations to 5 p.m. was:

Station	24 hours to date	Seasonal total	Normal
San Francisco	1.20	25.15	26.50
San Jose	1.20	18.00	20.00
San Diego	1.20	9.95	10.00
Pasadena	1.20	7.75	8.50

HEAVY MIST FALLS IN NIGHT HERE A heavy mist sufficient to dampen the streets began falling throughout Los Angeles about 1 o'clock this morning, giving strong indication of further precipitation today. The official forecast, however, is a cloudy and overcast day today and clearer and fairer weather tomorrow.

The first precipitation during the night was not of sufficient quantity to measure, but was dense enough to cloud automobile windshields and bring forth umbrellas and raincoats among those on the streets.

RAINFALL GENERAL IN NORTH

Danger of Forest Fires Lessened But Damage to Fruit Results

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Rainfall was general throughout Northern California today, varying from a trace to more than an inch at locations reporting to the Weather Bureau and marking the heaviest June precipitation in the last decade.

Although needed for dry soil, its lateness brought reports of split cherries where they were ready for picking; some mildew among grapes and damage to June hay. No grapes were available on monetary losses.

In the mountains the wet weather was a boon to dry timber and was reported by State Forester Pratt to have been of much good in warding off the danger of forest fires.

NEW FILM STARS SELECTED

Lasky Announces Names of Six Given Promotion; Talking Picture Program Disclosed

ST. LOUIS, June 15. (AP)—Jesse L. Lasky, first vice-president and head of production of the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, today announced elevation of six screen actors and actresses to the rating of stars, effective immediately.

The six are Gary Cooper, Richard Arlen, Nancy Carroll, Evelyn Brent, Ruth Chatterton and William Powell.

Lasky made the announcement in connection with a discussion of the new season's products at an international convention here of executives and other representatives of the Paramount corporation. He said Paramount plans to release sixty-five all-talking pictures for its season from August, 1929, to August, 1930, and also announced new issues of the foreign department of the Paramount news reels in sound.

Coincident to the opening of the convention, an arrangement whereby the Paramount corporation acquires a half interest in the Columbia.

ANTARCTICA FARM BILL

Frost Giants Do Measure Signed by Hoover

Byrd's Camp Presents Scene of Surprising Beauty After Thaw

Cameras' Susceptibility to Changing Temperature Causes Grief

BY RUSSELL OWEN (Copyright, 1929, by The New York Times and by permission reserved throughout the world.)

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) June 15. (Exclusive)—The unnaturally warm weather of the last few days was followed yesterday by so much moisture that ice and frost crystals formed on every outdoor structure in the Byrd expedition's camp. Wires became glittering and fairly like ropes in the light of a flare and even the radio towers and skis standing in the snow were rimmed with delicate frost flowers.

Some of these things were so beautiful that they were photographed by flashlight and some wonderful pictures were made to show what pranks the frost giants can play down here when they are in an impenetrable mood.

It was too good an opportunity for the moving picture men to overlook and they brought out flares which lighted up the entire camp and the radio towers and antennas and made a record of these shining lines against the dark background of the Antarctic night.

SUN RETURNING It was 11 deg. above zero yesterday when this phenomenon took place but today it is 8 deg. below again and clear, for which we are all thankful. It is good once more to see the sun and the faint northern twilight in the morning after many days of gloom and complete darkness.

New moving pictures are being made of other outdoor scenes and soon there will be flares shining down on the bay ice, as if it were a frozen lake, and the flares will be glowing there, throwing strange shadows among the upland peaks.

Joe Rucker and Willard Van Der Veer, the Paramount men, have had their troubles with their moving picture cameras for film stages and cameras jam in periods of intense cold and frequently they have to come in and thaw themselves out before making another attempt to get a picture. But they are slowly obtaining a night record of life and scenes in the Antarctic.

One who attempts to operate a camera or theodolite or other instrument in the Antarctic must be prepared for many vexations. Moving parts bend due to contraction from the cold; moisture condenses between lenses and fingers and the camera is ruined. The camera is burned until the tips appear to have been repeatedly seared by flames.

REYKJAVIK, June 15. (Exclusive)—The announcement yesterday that Capt. Ahrenberg, who, with Capt. Floden and Radio Operator Lundgren, attempting to fly from Stockholm in easy stages to New York, will wait for spare parts from Dumas Juniors works was received with considerable surprise here, where the flyers have steadily maintained that only weather conditions hindered an immediate start for Greenland.

The new decision seems somewhat to contradict the expression of full confidence in the plane which was contained in an interview given by Capt. Ahrenberg Thursday.

Shortage of fuel is given as another reason for the delay. Despite the formation of the Iceland-Whirl Travel Association here recently, at present there are no stores of gasoline or oil. The flyers already have exhausted all supplies available in making trial flights, except an amount barely enough to reach Greenland. Under the circumstances it is considered wise to wait for the arrival of supplies and spare parts and to give the plane a thorough overhauling. If they started off now and were obliged to turn back, it would in any case be necessary to wait the arrival of gasoline.

CHILD KILLED IN CRASH GRIDLEY, June 15. (AP)—Barbara Kern, 9 years of age, daughter of a wealthy San Mateo family, was instantly killed and four others, including her parents and brother, were seriously injured today when their sedan skidded and struck a tree on the highway two miles north of here.

Here at the base cameras are used in the open above the store to dry when it was necessary to bring them indoors. If the slightest moisture is left in them they will freeze and bind in a few minutes.

The still cameras froze and had to be thawed. Frost gathered between the lenses no matter how careful one might be, and was only removed by heating.

Two Die When Airplane Falls BUFFALO (N. Y.) June 15. (AP)—Howard Jones, Wichita, Kan., aviation instructor for the United States Department of Commerce, and William J. Schull, Buffalo, pilot, were killed early tonight when their airplane went into a dive and crashed at the Buffalo airport.

WASHINGTON, June 15. (Exclusive)—Southern Democrats are "paving the air" in a furor over the presence of Mrs. Oscar De Priest, wife of Chicago's colored House member, at a White House tea, last Wednesday. Southern members of both houses are denouncing it as an acknowledgment of social equality between the two races.

The White House points out that her at the tea. She greatly enjoyed herself and is greatly delighted.

"I deplore the incident beyond measure," declared Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, author of the Eighteenth Amendment. "It is recognition of social equality between the white and the black race and is fraught with infinite danger to our white civilization."

"I deplore the incident very much," said Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, who was a Hoover campaigner. "It was a serious mistake. Roosevelt made the same mistake."

Ends at Station

CHICAGO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Several hundred radicals engaged in a brief but lively scuffle with forty policemen this afternoon around the Peristyle in Grant Park at Randolph street and Michigan avenue while twice that number of less fractious citizens watched the struggle, not knowing what provoked it.

The issue was decided when seventeen men and ten women were hustled into patrol wagons and loaded up at Central Station. The others were dispersed.

The radicals, originally 700 strong, assembled earlier in Washington square to hear Communist leaders harangue on the textile strike situation in North Carolina. Hats were passed to collect a defense fund for a dozen agitators charged with the murder of three North Carolina policemen. Then the mob started to move downtown.

Planting banners and chanting the Internationale, the radicals talked at the Peristyle, having just left their following as they paraded to the Loop. William T. Kruse, district organizer of the Communist party, was belaboring the capitalist class from a soap box when Police William O'Neil and Maurice Blatterly ordered clearance for traffic.

Several women shrieked defiance, crying and kicking at the officers. Someone turned in a riot alarm, bringing five patrol loads of uni-

SACRAMENTO, June 15. (P)—As the sun, which didn't shine here today because of rain, sank to rest, Gov. Young surveyed the bill situation and found he has 243 measures still before him with only three days left in which to approve of them.

The prospects of some 170-odd bills in the Governor's hands appeared tonight as dark as the clouded capital sky and the measures as "wet" as the atmosphere, for not more than seventy, it is estimated, will receive executive approval by midnight Wednesday—the hour by which all legislation enacted by the 1939 Legislature must have been signed by the Governor or die by pocket veto.

Mrs. Gilman said a definite time for the ceremony has not been set, pending Miss Alkin's arrival.

Gordon, an autopsy showed, was shot from behind.

Dist. Atty. B. Loyal O'Connell, who is investigating the shooting, with Sheriff George Brunell, said he learned that Gordon last night piled twenty-seven cases of beer into his car at a loading station about a mile north of the Canadian border and started for the New York side.

The nearest customs station is at Moores, about twenty miles north of here. The District Attorney called this station today and was told by one of the officers there that no one at the station knew about any shooting.

System at Home

BERLIN, June 15. (P)—Those women who are fighting legislative protection of women in industry got in the first blow today against the rival International League of Women in a neighboring hotel by laying the foundations for creation of a new international women's organization.

The sole purpose of the proposed organization will be to oppose such protective legislation throughout the world.

Those favoring protection pursued a policy of watchful waiting. While the several hundred delegates assembled for the great international congress of the League of Women opened on Monday worked quietly on resolutions in closed committee meetings, a smaller but energetic group of about sixty delegates from fourteen countries held the first session of the open-door council. They completed analysis of the situation in various countries and planned to launch their new international organization tomorrow.

Mme. H. Deere of Belgium denounced the protection laws as "made by men for their own advantage under the guise of protection of the health and morals of women."

An American delegate, Miss Bertha C. Miller, a Chicago attorney, said "in the Middle West of the United States we have already stopped this wave of restrictive legislation for women and any serious consideration of such laws as for-bid night work for women or limit them to an eight-hour day."

Doris Stevens of New York, leader of the American delegation, described how "the national women's party has been able to block passage of bills which would further prevent women from working."

It was explained later that the new international organization will work through established societies in some countries and form new subsidiaries in others.

Tomas Alvarez
to Head Yaquis

TUCSON, June 15. (P)—Gathered in tribal council, with twelve elders of the tribe presiding, the Yaqui Indians of the Pecos village near here have elected Tomas Alvarez as their temporary chief to succeed Chief Francisco Matuz killed recently in an automobile accident.

The twelve elders, acting in the capacity of a council, represented the will of the tribe. If Alvarez proves satisfactory during a short preliminary term, his chieftainship will later be confirmed for life.

Hoover Enjoys
Picnic Supper

WASHINGTON, June 15. (P)—Although he did not engage in a week-end-fishing expedition as has been his custom, during recent weeks, President Hoover took an automobile ride of several hours duration late today, stopping on his trip for a picnic supper.

He rode along the Maryland side of the Potomac River and had his picnic supper at the Point of the Rocks, a spot of scenic beauty, approximately fifty miles northwest of here. He returned to the White House late tonight.

A Well-bred Distinction
—inimitably PIERCE-ARROW

THERE is that about Pierce-Arrow which makes a particular appeal to one's pride. Partly, no doubt, it is the knowledge that there is no finer automobile. And then Pierce-Arrow owns a well-bred distinction that is inimitable.

The new Straight Eight is a very modern expression of all that is fine in Pierce-Arrow tradition. Besides, it is a long, low-slung slender creation which makes bulk and heavy lines forever unfashionable among fine motor cars.

This is the automobile which arrived at the psychological moment to open a new chapter in fine car history. It meets an eager and waiting demand.

Body and Engine by Pierce-Arrow
—and Pierce-Arrow in every part!

North Fighting New Gas War
SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Believing that new cuts in the retail price of gasoline in the east bay district threaten a renewal of the gasoline war on the peninsula, the retail service station dealers' association has called a meeting for Monday night to devise ways of maintaining a determined front to retain the price here at 20 cents.
East bay stations have dropped off to 18 cents. A few instances of 17-cent gas have been reported.

Doble Divorces Titled Actor
OAKLAND, June 15. (Exclusive)—The end was written early in the marriage of Warren Doble, automobile manufacturer, and his actress wife, Frances, who was with whom he eloped in 1925. A Hollywood divorce was granted by Judge Tryon in Alameda Superior Court on representation of Mrs. Doble was jealous and temperamental.
Doble is vice-president of the United Fruit Company and a brother of Alvin Karpis, the gangster, and the daughter of the late stage and screen actor, who took place in Chicago, 1925.

Essex the Challenger

VISIT our showrooms and see a remarkable display in motor car color design—a variety so wide as to give almost individual distinction, at no extra cost. It is a new industrial achievement.
More than 225 different color combinations on various models were delivered last month by the Hudson Motor Car Co. That is why, although nearly 200,000 Essex the Challengers are in service, there is a sparkling variety and individuality about each car, instead of the monotonous sameness expected in big production.
The tremendous buying swing to Essex the Challenger—with nearly 200,000 in service in five months—is the popular answer to how it upholds its sweeping challenge to motordom.
Not only the brilliant Performance Car—with speed, challenging up to 70 miles an hour.
Not only the Economy Car—you may expect 18 to 20 miles to a gallon—many get more, as thousands of owners demonstrate.
Not only the comfort car—with adult size roominess, and big car riding ease and roadability.
Essex the Challenger is also the Car of Individual Distinction. Its wide variety of color choices, at no extra cost, is a new step in the industry, and permits almost individual selection.
Hydraulic shock absorbers and new type double-action 4-wheel brakes are standard—they do not cost one cent extra. The same with radiator shutters, air cleaner, windshield wiper, safety lock, chromium-plated bright parts. All valuable features—all features you want. Add up for yourself the extras Essex offers at no added cost and you will see above $100 in extra value in those items alone.
Your present car will probably cover the entire first payment.

STATE BANKERS ELECT OFFICERS

Association Convention
Comes to Close

Bacigalupi Gives Address of
Final Session

Arnold J. Mount Installed as
New President

SACRAMENTO, June 15. (AP)—The thirty-fifth annual convention of the California Bankers' Association closed here today with election of officers, and an address by James A. Bacigalupi, president of the Bank of Italy, on trust business of banks.

Bacigalupi was given an ovation both at the beginning and at the conclusion of his address.

BACIGALUPI SPEAKS
 "While millions today express in figures the potentialities of trust business, the one outstanding attribute of the trust department which has always appealed to me as of even greater and more far-reaching importance is its constant opportunity for the exercise of helpful humanitarian effort," he said. "It is the one department of the bank which not only demands a soul but which permits the bank to demonstrate that it does in truth possess a heart, besides financial acumen, which it yearns to place at the disposal of all worthy patrons who may stand in need of sure, efficient and sympathetic confidential co-operation."

"These are days when the best thought of the nation is intent upon giving to business the richest touch of sincerity, truth and helpfulness; when consideration for the public welfare is recognized as an essential element in even purely commercial enterprises; when the spirit of service to humankind is glorified and exalted as it has never been glorified and exalted before. It is not strange, therefore, that even the prosaic business of commercial and savings banking should now assume a new attractiveness because of this alliance and intimate association with new ideals as exemplified in the activities of a trust department that has for one of its most important objects the care and conservation of the widower's wife, the orphan's meager legacy, the precious store of the aged, the infirm and the incompetent and the affairs of those who are no longer present to carry on."

OFFICERS CHOSEN
 He stated that to the honor and glory of our banks, no charge of negligence or loss has even been successfully prosecuted against any bank engaged in the administration of a trust.

At the annual election the following officers were chosen and installed:
 President, Arnold J. Mount, senior vice-president of the Bank of Italy in San Francisco; vice-president, Lane D. Webber of the First National Trust and Savings Bank of San Francisco; treasurer, F. A. Dimmore of the American Trust Company of San Francisco, who was re-elected.

He succeeded Will F. Morrish of the Bank of America of California in San Francisco.

Reparations Expert Races
to Cleveland for Event;
Week's Rest Planned

CLEVELAND, June 15. (AP)—Charles G. Young, son of the head of the American delegation to the Paris reparations conference, and Miss Esther Marie Christensen, daughter of the Danish Consul here, were married late today.

Owen D. Young, father of the bridegroom, came here today in a hurried trip which caused him to rush through New York without planned receptions in recognition of his work at Paris. He left soon after the ceremony, performed by Dr. Thomas McWilliams of Western Reserve University, for his mother's home near Utica, N. Y.

The older Mr. Young said he probably will rest at his mother's home for about a week, and then go on to Washington to confer with President Hoover and possibly issue a statement on the reparations agreements.

Price Fixed for
New Peach Crop
Declared High

SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Belle that the 1929 peach crop prices as fixed yesterday by the California Canning Peach Growers' Association are too high was expressed informally today. The growers set a price of 80¢ a ton for No. 1 canning peaches and 90¢ for all others suitable for canning. The No. 1 grade price last year was 30¢ a ton on a 15,000,000-case crop.

Frederick McKinney, vice-president and secretary of the Canners' League, said: "We cannot make a statement at this time and must have an opportunity to study the growers' report. None of our representatives was at the meeting."

In allied quarters, however, the prices were characterized as "higher than justified, even by a 20 per cent reduction in the crop."

FIRST FOUND SHOT
 WILSONA (Minn.) June 15. (AP)—Rev. Nicholas Bonaventura, 69 years of age, a Roman Catholic priest on leave from the La Crosse diocese, was found shot to death in a rooming-house here today after local police said was an encounter between him and John Gira, 48, who was wounded. Mrs. Gira, 48, had been clubbed over the head, police said.

Gold Sovereign Rarely Appears in London Now

LONDON, June 13. (AP)—The gold sovereign, or coin of one pound sterling, is under suspicion by the present generation. Before the war it was the most popular coin in the realm, but it soon disappeared from circulation and has since appeared rarely.
The currency notes replacing the sovereign, have become so much a part of the life of England that the appearance of a golden sovereign means little to the person who handles it.
Young cashiers, grown up since the war, ask "what coin is it?" Messenger boys declare they have "never seen one before," but conductors from it and declare they have no change.
Sovereigns, therefore, are relegated to the prosaic business of foreign exchange dealings.

CHAUCA WINS 'TIMES' MARATHON RACE

THE START, THE FINISH AND THE WINNER OF THE FIRST PRE-OLYMPIC MARATHON

Chief of Police Davis fired his big cannon to send the marathon runners on their way yesterday noon there was a big crowd in front of the City Hall. But when Harry Chauca flashed across the finish line, the crowd was so big that it was impossible to see the runner. The top photo shows the start, the middle photo the crowd before the Times Building just after Chauca had finished, and below Chauca himself as he passed the finishing mark. (Photos by Times Staff Photographers Paul Strite and Bill Snyder)

ANKLE'S-EYE VIEW OF "TIMES" MARATHON

BY BELMAN MORIN
This is an ankle's-eye view of the Times Marathon.
It started out to be a delicate, tear-stained—not to say sweat-stained—tale of suffering and death on the high roads. That's what you would expect when human flesh is driven, at a killing pace, over twenty-six miles of sun-drenched road.
But, believe it or not, that's not the story. The fact is, the great majority of the runners finished in good condition, survived a shower and rubdown, and went out of the dressing-rooms under their own power. Even the boys who were forced out of the race along the way, and rode into town in the bus, for the most part, all to the good. Usually, it was a case of some temporary ailment developing that put them on the cushions. Up at Central Junior High School, the marathoners were groomed like race horses when it was all over. First, a rubdown. From tip to toe, with ointment and relaxing oil; then a shower, another rubdown, a short rest, and it was all over. And there wasn't a sick or ailing man in the party.
All of which is quite a boost for the old human machine.
Do your feet hurt?
Do you feel that your feet are on fire?
A number were without any pain at all. Some were almost unable to walk. And others complained of blisters and raw places, but nothing serious. One of them, a lean, raw-boned youth of 20, had a blister that strongly resembled a raspberry on the side of his toe.
Where are you sore?
Nine out of ten had swollen and aching calves. The majority were troubled with tired shoulders, and one had an aching knee. All of these ailments, so the boys said, had largely passed, however, after the rubdown and shower.
Does your head ache?
A surprisingly small number answered in the affirmative.
Are you sick to your stomach?

STARS CAPTURE TWIN BILL

Kinney Twirls Sheiks to 4-1 Victory in Opener; Marly Mound Hero of 5-4 Nightcap Win

BY BOB RAY
It's bargains that Oscar Vitt's Hollywood Stars are looking for. The Sheiks, behind some fancy flipping put on exhibition by big Walter Kinney, the portly portender who has come back, and Joe Marly, who put on a brilliant relief pitching performance, showed that out at Wrigley Field yesterday when they took both ends of the bargain bill from Portland, 4 to 1 and 5 to 4.
Some 4000 fans also showed that nightcap. El Funk hit the other home run of the afternoon in the opening frame of the first game.
The double-barreled Hollywood victory gave the Sheiks a four-to-two stranglehold on the series, which winds up today with the customary Sabbath twin program. The Stars only have to win one of today's clashes to cop the series, but Vitt is going to send Red Johns and Hank Hulvey to the mound in an effort to annex both games. Jack Knight and Curt Fullerton are in line to do the flinging for Bill Rodgers' Portlanders.
In the opener Kinney had his knuckle ball working to perfection and just breezed through after a wobbly first inning, in which the Ducks scored their lone run. The big Sheik southpaw held the Ducks to five hits and dominated the situation after the opening round.

VANCOUVER (B. C.), June 15. (P)—Percy Williams, Vancouver Olympic sprint champion, and George Simpson, who beat the world's record for 100 yards at Soldier Field, Chicago, recently, will meet in the 100-yard event here during the midsummer carnival July 12 and 13.
Other stars competing will include Jack Elder, Notre Dame University, Claude Bracey, Rice Institute, Houston, Tex.; Bob McAllister, New York's "Flying Scot"; Frank Wykoff, Los Angeles, and Johnny Fitzpatrick, Hamilton, Ont.

CLARENCE DE MAR SECOND AS INDIAN COPS HONORS

Redskin Runs Even With Eastern Star Until 25-Mile Mark When He Cuts Loose

BY BRAVEN DYES
They may never give Harry Chauca credit for breaking the world's record in the six-mile run but after what the fleet-footed Sherman Indian did to Clarence De Mar in the first annual Times pre-Olympic Marathon yesterday it is unlikely that Harry cares a great deal.
Breaking away from the celebrated eastern star at the twenty-five-mile mark, Chauca strode into the lead and came bounding down Broadway to hit the finish line more than three minutes ahead of the famous "M e l-rose Marvel."
That his time for the distance was slightly more than twenty-seven miles was a bit slow was not Chauca's fault. The Indian's mark goes down on the books at 2h. 34.4-1/2. The regular marathon course is 26 miles, 385 yards, but yesterday's route proved to be a little over a mile better than that.
HELD HIM BACK
Chauca wanted to put on a faster gait five miles from the finish, but his coach, B. A. Jamison, decided to play safe and accordingly held his star in check until the twenty-five-mile mark was reached on Sunset Boulevard. When Harry decided to step out there really was nothing to it. De Mar failing to match his easy strides during the closing stages of the race.
Chauca stayed well back among the pack for the first three miles and then gradually moved up among the leaders. At the nine-mile mark he was running easily in fourth place, the lead being held by De Mar and Howard Zamperoni, another Indian. These two were followed by Frankie Saba, still another of Chauca's stars, who ultimately finished third.
At Pico and Robertson, the eleven-mile mark, Chauca slipped into third place and four blocks farther on he moved right up behind De Mar, the other redskins slipping back gradually until the race became a two-man battle between Harry and the veteran of all American marathons.
The pace for the first ten miles was very fast, the leaders covering this distance in exactly one hour, which is pretty speedy traveling. After seventeen miles had been covered and the athletes reached Santa Monica and Fairfax the pace slackened perceptibly. De Mar beginning to slow down and Chauca being content to dog his footsteps.
WELL SPRINKLED
The "Melrose Marvel" soured himself, both inside and out, with water as the race grew tougher, and finished in a well-water-logged condition. This is his usual procedure, however, as he always tanks up (Continued on Page 3, Column 1)

"THE TIMES" MARATHON IS RUN OFF PERFECTLY

BY PAUL LOWRY
The first annual Times pre-Olympic marathon set a new world's record right off the bat. It was started at the announced time—12 o'clock noon. Clarence De Mar, the veteran marathoner, said it could not be done because it had never been done before.
The city whistles were shrieking the lunch hour when Chief of Police Davis raised his big cannon aloft and fired a shot that sounded like the battleship Maine being blown up. And from then on other records were established right and left. Thanks to the wonderful co-operation of this city's police, those of the Culver City and Beverly Hills districts the thirty-nine starters in the pre-Olympic marathon ran unhampered through arteries that teemed with traffic.
No marathon ever run on the west coast had such an audience. It was estimated by Charles Keppen, manager of the race, that upward of 100,000 persons saw the race.
Spring street sidewalks were clogged with people who cheered the runners as they left the City Hall and tore southward into Main street and thence to Washington. Thousands of machines followed the runners. Out in the more-outlet districts—away from the city's bustling traffic—each vantage point had its crowd.
Eager eyes strained to catch sight of the leaders—Chauca, the Hopi Indian from Arizona, who ran under the colors of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, and Clarence De Mar, the Melrose Marvel who came all the way across the country to run in the first Times pre-Olympic marathon.
Watchers elbowed one another in the streets. They craned their necks. They implored official cars leading the way for word of the runners.
The city seemed to have gone mad with the race.

"Cash and Carry" Pyle's Transcontinental Race Ends at Wrigley Field Tonight

GAUZZI AND SALO TO BATTLE FOR FIRST PRIZE

Great Endurance Test Winds Up With Final Race Over Full Marathon Route at Park

BY BRAVEN DYER.

One of the greatest endurance tests in the history of mankind comes to an end at Wrigley Field this evening when nineteen steel-limbed athletes run twenty-six miles in the wind-up of Charley Pyle's second annual transcontinental foot race.

The race starts at eight o'clock with a grandstand full of spectators. The race is a popular one. One day they turned out 50,000 people to see the race. Another day they turned out 40,000 people to see the race. On other occasions only a handful of spectators will show up for the race. The race is a popular one. The race is a popular one. OLYMPIC CLUB SELECTS TEAM

Winged "O" Outfit to Send Strong Team to Denver

DENVER (Colo.) June 15. (P.)—The Olympic Club of San Francisco today informed the committee in charge of the National A.A.U. field and track meet to be held here July 4, 4 and 5 that it will be represented by one of the best teams ever sponsored by the club. The tentative line-up of the team is declared to be "the strongest team the Olympic Club has had in many years."

Notables in the line-up will be Bob King, Olympic high-jump winner for America, and the present world champion. King will make the fifth of six American Olympic winners who will compete at the Denver meet. The only substitute winner may be Ray Harbuhl, who is at present under suspension, but who has secured the local committee of his desire to compete if he can obtain reinstatement.

In the sprint the Olympic Club will have Russell Sweet, 2-3 second man and Hector Dyer, the Stanford dash champion. King and Henry Coggeshall, another ace, will take care of the high jump; Ross Nichols and Ward Edwards, the timber-toppers from Stanford, will carry the honors in the hurdles, and Edmonds, one of the country's best, will enter the pole vault.

Harlow Rother and Eric Krentz, likewise of Stanford, will be entered in the shot and discus events. Rother also is claimed by the Los Angeles A.C., and it is not yet determined for whom he will compete here.

Other team members are Leo Kirby and Curtis in the javelin; Jack Merchant, Kapanian and J. McEachren in the hammer and fifty-six-pound weight; Dyer and George Martin in the broad jump and William Sterle in the 440-yard dash and the 880-yard run.

EAGAN ONCE LED WITH 25 CIRCUITS

Eleven Coast League players alone this season have already eluded out more than 150 home runs. During the 1927 season the 140 players in the circuit accounted for only 134 home runs. Six teams comprised the league that year.

"Truck" Eagan, a Tacoma player, topped the home-run hitters with twenty-eight in 1924. Clifford Cravath, a Los Angeles rookie, took second place honors in home-run hitting with thirteen to his credit. Coast League clubs pooled 854 homers last season, about 100 more than were made in a season twenty-five years ago. The home-run total for the eight clubs this season already has passed the 400 mark.

FIVE RECORDS TUMBLE

Outboards Make Spray Fly to Break Old Marks in Regatta at Newport Beach

NEWPORT BEACH, June 15.—Five world's outboard speedboat records went overboard here today in the first events of a two-day hydroplane regatta staged under the auspices of the Southern California Outboard Association.

All of the new marks were for the straight away mile and were previously held by East Coast pilots. Driving Dr. Leo M. Baughman's Blue Streak IV of Los Angeles, H. O. Ferguson, holder of the five-mile competition record set a new Class D time of 47.99 miles per hour, bettering the old record for the distance by more than three miles per hour. Later in the same Class D time of 47.99 miles per hour, Ferguson boosted the Class C, Division 2 world's record from 28.76 to 32.265 miles per hour. Blue Streak again came in for top honors in Class C, Division 1 when Chuck Hall went over the mile at the rate of 30.519 miles per hour.

The outstanding performance of the day was the driving of Johnny Adams of Pasadena, who shot a new Class B craft, Crandall Comet, up and down the course for a new record of 40.119 miles per hour, topping the old Class B record by nearly three miles per hour. T. H. Fagan raised the Class B, Division 2 mark from 37.98 to 39.542 in another new boat, Miss Hippobosc.

Competitions starting at noon Sunday on the upper bay Marine Speedway will include races for Class B, C and D boats and will be marked by caters from Northern and Southern California. More than thirty-five hydroes will compete, according to the announcement of E. K. Hunsaker, commander of the Southern California Outboard Association, who is in command of the regatta.

BRACEY RUNS EXHIBITION

Texas Flyer Fails to Set New Century Record; Timed in 9-4-5 Seconds

WASHINGTON, June 15. (P.)—On a track made heavy by rain, Claude Bracey, Rice Institute (Texas) sprinter, ran 100 yards in 9-4-10, in a special exhibition race today at the annual South Atlantic A.A.U. track meet, failing to better the unofficial 9-4-10, world record of George Simpson of Ohio State University.

Simpson was present at the meet as a spectator, not competing in the race because of a leg injury incurred during his record-breaking race last Saturday at Chicago. The Ohio State star, who returned tonight to Columbus, O., however, said he would resume track work.

A PROPHECY COMES TRUE

TWO weeks ago one of the contributors to the regular Sabbath old-timers' column predicted that if hand blocks and foot blocks were sanctioned by the official track-and-field bodies it would not be long before somebody ran the 100 yards in 9-3-5.

This contributor—Mr. George W. Jordan, a field captain of the Olympic Club team forty years ago—has been vindicated. George Simpson of Ohio State, using foot blocks in the N.C.A.A. meet in Chicago a week ago, ran the century in the new world's record time of 9-3-5.

At the same time he made his prediction attendant on the use of blocks Mr. Jordan observed that when Sherrill of Yale introduced the crouching start there was a terrific hullabaloo over the matter. Mr. Jordan, a resident of this city, carries on in correspondence about this subject as follows:

"As regards my statement that Sherrill of Yale was the first sprinter to introduce the crouching start, I can only say that the New York Clipper was the recognized authority on amateur sports and records in the eighties. In 1889 Sherrill used the crouching start in the Yale-Harvard meet of that year, as stated by the New York Clipper.

"We had no other way out here of getting the information except through the A.A.U. or New York papers. I was a delegate to the Pacific Coast A.A.U. on the Olympic Club in 1888-89, and I remember we had taken up this matter of starting.

"The A.A.U. in 1889 would not sanction it. I have a scrap book of most of the records made in the eighties, but have not the Sherrill matter.

"I am including a newspaper account of the records of the college athletes of 1890. Sherrill was considered the fastest 100-yard runner of the colleges. Moon you will note is credited with 9-5-4, but it was not allowed. Luther Carey also ran 100 yards in 9-5-4. (not allowed.) I am not seeking publicity. My only concern is that the old-timers get credit for their records made under adverse conditions. If George Simpson ran in 9-3-5, without blocks he should get credit for it."

THIRTY-NINE YEARS AGO

THE clipping Mr. Jordan enclosed is one dealing with the eighteenth I.C.A.A.A. meet, which has been run eight out of the past nine years by Pacific Coast teams (California, Southern California and Stanford.) It is a pretty story, the lead reading as follows:

"New York, May 19, 1890.—Memorable days and full of high hopes and sanguine expectations have rounded out the last ten weeks among the hundreds of track athletes at the various colleges. Many feats of strength and swiftness have stirred the enthusiastic gatherings on the college green to unbounded applause.

"Never did contestants train more rigidly in advance of the Olympic Games than these brave lads have done in their preparation for the supreme test of skill, speed and endurance which takes place next week when all the leading colleges will be pitted against each other in the great intercollegiate tournament at the Berkeley Oval in New York.

"More interesting even than the championship series which is to follow, for the intercollegiate decides who, of all the men from the half-dozen leading colleges, are entitled to enter the final struggle for the higher honors, and the work of selection brings out a greater field than any other battle of the year."

Rather dry reading, but sports writers in those days probably weren't any better trained than some of the athletes. Here are the records (premet) of the I.C.A.A.A. boys back in 1890, some of which are put to shame by the high school boys these days.

100-yard dash—Sherrill of Yale, 10:1; Moon of Harvard, 9:14.

One-mile run—Wells of Amherst, 4m. 29.3s.

120-yard high hurdles—Mapes of Columbia and Williams of Yale, 16-4-5.

220-yard low hurdles—Mapes of Columbia, 20-2-3.

High jump—Pearling of Harvard, Green of Harvard and Webster of Pennsylvania, 5ft. 10-1/2in.

Broad jump—Mapes of Columbia, Shearman of Yale and Green of Harvard, 21ft. 9in., 20ft. 6in. and 21ft. 1in., respectively.

Pole vault—Welsh of Columbia, 10ft.; Ames of Columbia, 9ft. 4in.

Hammer throw—Bower of Pennsylvania, 20ft.

Shot put—Shaw of Harvard, 20ft. 4in.; Janeway of Princeton, 20ft. 1-1/2in.; Hickox of Yale, 20ft. 10in.

Tug of war—Columbia by 4 inches.

880-yard run—Dohm of Princeton, 1m. 55-1/2s.

Two-mile bicycle—Greenleaf of Harvard, 1m. 55-1/2s.

220-yard dash—Derickson of Columbia, 2s.

ARNOLD EDDY EXPOSED

MR. HENRY WALTHALL BRUCE, who broke into the old-timers' column last week on the strength of having received a jurk doctor degree from Southern California after being a graduate manager back in the old days when the Trajans played their "big games" at Harvard Field, has accepted his veteran's diploma.

And on the strength of this Mr. Bruce has recommended to the extent of exposing Mr. Arnold Eddy, the hard-boiled football ticket dispenser. The incident goes back to 1919 when Stanford played the Trajans on Thanksgiving Day which the Trajans won, 19 to 6, and in the course of which the Cardinals used twelve men at one stage of the game. Mr. Bruce proceeds as follows:

"Another circumstance of this game which I had reason to remember from the managerial point of view concerns a mutual acquaintance of ours. It happened that the night previous to the day of the contest, a terrific storm settled down on our fair city, but the sun came out bright and early the next morning with the assurance of a perfect day. I arrived on Harvard Field early that morning to check up on the efficiency of the underground drainage system we had installed. Imagine my surprise when I found the big board fence had blown down at one end of field and several hundred kids were in gleeful exultation over the prospects of seeing a game other than through a knif hole.

"In no mood to be trifled with, I promptly proceeded to put the kids to work. Some rebelled and in fairness to the workers I had the rebeaters once expelled from the premises.

"One of the kids who was a victim of the expulsion was none other than Arnold Eddy, the present football ticket dispenser of the university. Each year now when I go over to his palatial office to plead with him for additional consideration in the matter of tickets, he confronts me always with this incident and my difficulties are thereby increased a hundred-fold. I mention this only to show that perhaps the 'old-timer' member which you have seen fit to hang on me is perhaps well-chosen after all."

THE LAST TWENTY-ROUNDER

AFTER some research into the pugilistic records Mr. George Hussey contributes the date of the last twenty-round battle fought in California.

It was the Joe Rivers-Johnny Dundee scrap at Vernon on December 8, 1914.

Dundee won the decision.

Reds Planning Hurler Trades

CINCINNATI, June 15.—Officials of the Cincinnati Reds are preparing to trade most of the men on the team provided they can swing the deals they want. A group of possible trades have been put up to the other clubs and it is believed something will be announced tonight or tomorrow. As at present made up the Reds lack punch, and it is players with a drive that are in demand. The Reds have pitchers who could be used by some of their rivals. It is, therefore, believed that any deals Cincinnati may swing will be through their pitching talent.

BLACK SEA BASS RUNNING

Over a dozen black sea bass have been caught during the last week off Santa Monica, it was learned last night from Capt. Max Watt at the Santa Monica Municipal Pier. Glen Brook, angler from the Ship Kikuna landed one of the "jewfish" scaling 400 pounds. Buck Oe caught two of the monster bass, one from the Ship Kikuna and one from the Ship Los. One fish weighed 180 pounds and the other 435 pounds. Lee Bray landed one weighing 350 pounds from the Kikuna.

Self-Sustaining Charity Real Boon to Mothers

Maternity Cottage at 127 South Utah street. Below—Nurse, Mrs. Diamond Young, returning charges after feeding.

Quality rather than quantity might well be the slogan of the Maternity Cottage at 127 South Utah street, for, as hospitals go, its buildings are not so extensive, its halls so long nor its staff so large as those of most of its more pretentious sisters, but for the quality of its service and more especially for its annual output of tiny, helpless seraphs of humanity it could be hard to turn a better record.

"They just don't get sick," said Mrs. Kate Duffield, superintendent, as she quoted figures from the past year's records which will be read at the annual meeting of the cottage Wednesday. For the year ending May 31 there were 513 babies born at the cottage, 247 boys and 266 girls, and six sets of twins. Of that number there were fourteen still-born children, Mrs. Duffield said, but otherwise not a single child died as a result of illness or did they lose a mother. And according to her that is a record that not only will stand with the records of the best hospitals, but is a record of the best of the cottage.

The cottage, which first was organized in 1907 with but one bed in a very small house on a very small lot on Utah street, and has assumed the proportions of a real enterprise with a lot 135 feet wide by 165 feet deep, on which is the cottage, a building for the superintendent and head nurse, two dormitories for nurses and a fully equipped electric laundry.

Established as a maternity hospital for the wives of men who cannot afford the fees of the average large hospital, this institution, nonetheless, tries to eliminate the element of dispensing charity. Thus there are fees, but they are nominal and subject to exception in the case of patients who cannot pay them. For no one who is in need of help is turned away and the records for the past year show that fifty-two full charity patients were taken care of, forty paid what they could afford and twenty-one mothers were supplied with layettes for their babies when they left the hospital.

Wives from all walks of life, from every quarter of the city and from outlying towns come to the cottage and all receive the same attention, which is of as efficient and scientific a type as can be found in any large hospital. The medical staff consists of a chief-of-staff, Dr. Sterling N. Pierce, and four associates, a head nurse and eleven nurses.

"The cottage itself is a one-story and brick building with accommodations for twenty-eight patients. It contains all of the regular work and conforms to the standards of the American College of Surgeons. A prenatal clinic is a part of its organization and is held by the staff physicians every Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. Last year, according to hospital records, 1851 examinations were made in the clinic.

The hospital is largely self-supporting, as it is not a member of the Community Chest. But for improvements, such as the recent remodeling of the summer house and the expenses of its inevitable growth and expansion it is dependent upon the gifts of friends who are interested in the work and achievements of the organization.

"I can't tell you any startling things about our patients," said Mrs. Duffield, "for our distinction seems to lie in the extremely normal procedure of all of the cases. In a recent talk with a specialist in this city who had been looking over our records, he asked, 'What kind of thermometer do you use down here? I don't see that it was simply that we couldn't afford to have thermometers. We do not charge enough, whereas in the large hospitals the fees assume such proportions that the patients have to get their money's worth. And that shows just how normal and un-spectacular we are here.'"

GRIMES JURORS RESUME TODAY

The jury was instructed that it might find severally among the defendants. The forms called for verdicts of guilty or not guilty of criminal conspiracy.

In his instructions, which took fifty-five minutes to read, Judge Wilson held that the recording order under which the defendants in breaking into the home and jailing Jacobson, the defendants should be acquitted.

His instruction also declared that one disjunctive act should not constitute sufficient evidence to convict a person of vagrancy, the original charge placed against the Councilman. The instructions also included definitions and explanations of conspiracy.

The case, which in one form or another has been before the public since the day after the raid, which occurred August 5, 1927, has been on trial before Judge Wilson for three weeks. A previous trial resulted in a disagreement. A jury in Municipal Court failed to reach a verdict when the morals charge was brought against Jacobson and the case against him was thereafter dismissed. The 1927 and 1928 grand juries heard evidence on the matter, and it will come before the 1929 grand jury Tuesday, when an investigation will be conducted as to Jacobson's efforts to influence the testimony of Mrs. Grimes before the 1928 grand jury.

HOSPITAL PENS UNIQUE RECORD

Maternity Cottage Reports Singular Success

Of 513 Births in Year Only Babies Born Dead Lost

Every Mother Discharged in Full Health Also

Quality rather than quantity might well be the slogan of the Maternity Cottage at 127 South Utah street, for, as hospitals go, its buildings are not so extensive, its halls so long nor its staff so large as those of most of its more pretentious sisters, but for the quality of its service and more especially for its annual output of tiny, helpless seraphs of humanity it could be hard to turn a better record.

"They just don't get sick," said Mrs. Kate Duffield, superintendent, as she quoted figures from the past year's records which will be read at the annual meeting of the cottage Wednesday. For the year ending May 31 there were 513 babies born at the cottage, 247 boys and 266 girls, and six sets of twins. Of that number there were fourteen still-born children, Mrs. Duffield said, but otherwise not a single child died as a result of illness or did they lose a mother. And according to her that is a record that not only will stand with the records of the best hospitals, but is a record of the best of the cottage.

The cottage, which first was organized in 1907 with but one bed in a very small house on a very small lot on Utah street, and has assumed the proportions of a real enterprise with a lot 135 feet wide by 165 feet deep, on which is the cottage, a building for the superintendent and head nurse, two dormitories for nurses and a fully equipped electric laundry.

Established as a maternity hospital for the wives of men who cannot afford the fees of the average large hospital, this institution, nonetheless, tries to eliminate the element of dispensing charity. Thus there are fees, but they are nominal and subject to exception in the case of patients who cannot pay them. For no one who is in need of help is turned away and the records for the past year show that fifty-two full charity patients were taken care of, forty paid what they could afford and twenty-one mothers were supplied with layettes for their babies when they left the hospital.

Wives from all walks of life, from every quarter of the city and from outlying towns come to the cottage and all receive the same attention, which is of as efficient and scientific a type as can be found in any large hospital. The medical staff consists of a chief-of-staff, Dr. Sterling N. Pierce, and four associates, a head nurse and eleven nurses.

"The cottage itself is a one-story and brick building with accommodations for twenty-eight patients. It contains all of the regular work and conforms to the standards of the American College of Surgeons. A prenatal clinic is a part of its organization and is held by the staff physicians every Tuesday from 9 to 11 a.m. Last year, according to hospital records, 1851 examinations were made in the clinic.

The hospital is largely self-supporting, as it is not a member of the Community Chest. But for improvements, such as the recent remodeling of the summer house and the expenses of its inevitable growth and expansion it is dependent upon the gifts of friends who are interested in the work and achievements of the organization.

"I can't tell you any startling things about our patients," said Mrs. Duffield, "for our distinction seems to lie in the extremely normal procedure of all of the cases. In a recent talk with a specialist in this city who had been looking over our records, he asked, 'What kind of thermometer do you use down here? I don't see that it was simply that we couldn't afford to have thermometers. We do not charge enough, whereas in the large hospitals the fees assume such proportions that the patients have to get their money's worth. And that shows just how normal and un-spectacular we are here.'"

Officers and members of the board of directors of the Maternity Cottage are: Mrs. William Baurnyette, president; Mrs. Beatrice Duffield, vice-president; Mrs. Randolph Carter, second vice-president; Mrs. C. W. Wright, recording secretary; Samuel Poornan, assistant recording secretary; Mrs. Harry Chas. Hart, treasurer; Judge H. Morgan Calbreth, auditor; Mrs. O. P. Clark, director; William Baurnyette, director; Dr. Sterling N. Pierce, director.

Clark refused to obey Judge Wood's order to sit down, following which the jurist declared him in contempt of court and gave him until 11 a.m. yesterday to pay a fine of $500 to jail.

When the hour arrived and Clark failed to appear to pay, Judge Wood signed a commitment. When counsel for the lawyer made application for a writ of habeas corpus, Justice York declined to accept the papers, asserting they were insufficient. While a second application was being drawn, Clark paid his fine and left the jail. He will appear as counsel in Judge Wood's court tomorrow.

Attorneys Nathan Newby and W. J. Apple, called by Clark in the preparation of formal application for a writ of habeas corpus to comply with Justice York's requirements.

Clark appeared in court yesterday, and his associate, armed with a battery of law books and appearing to be a lawyer, argued the legality of the court's contempt finding, but Judge Wood remained unmoved. A. A. Miller, who turned the paper over to Deputy Sheriff Coyle for service on Clark.

Clark received service of the commitment without show of emotion. He was led into the prisoners' room of the courtroom by Coyle, while his legal associates conferred with him on the matter of beginning habeas corpus proceedings in Appellate Court.

Judge Wood did not enter the courtroom during the episode, and left the Hall of Justice shortly after signing the commitment paper.

"There was nothing further to be done in the matter," the judge said. "The contempt finding was made Friday and I gave Mr. Clark until 11 o'clock this morning to pay the fine or go to jail. When that hour arrived my clerk advised me that the fine had not been paid and I signed the commitment paper. There was nothing further to argue in the matter, and I do not intend to allow my court to be imposed upon by any attorney."

The trial which precipitated the contempt order is that in which Nat Cordish and E. K. Fleming, former officials of Mutual Motors, Inc., are defendants on eleven counts of grand theft and forgery in connection with their asserted falsifying contracts.

Several instances of heated controversy during the examination and cross-examination of witnesses brought warning remarks from Judge Wood during the last two weeks to attorneys in the case, and the climax was reached when Clark finally refused to obey the court's order to be seated during an exceptionally warm controversy over the cross-examination of a witness.

FAMED TRUMPET TO SOUND CALL

Instrument from Krakow, Poland, on Exhibition at Public Library

A trumpet call which has sounded for centuries each hour of the day and night from the church tower of Krakow, Poland, will be played in the children's court of the Central Library Tuesday at 4 p.m.

A Boy Scout will play the identical notes of the hymn on the trumpet that has been used by Polish trumpeters for many generations. The ancient silver trumpet is touring the United States in honor of Prof. Eric P. Kelly, who has brought it to the knowledge of young Americans through his story, "The Trumpeter of Krakow," which received the Newbery award for the best children's book of the year.

During the children's hour the story of the boy, Joseph, who saved Krakow by his trumpet call, will be told.

The trumpet will be on display in the first floor lobby of the library.

SALVATIONISTS STOP OVER HERE

Col. and Capt. Jenkins Rank High in Councils

Pioneers of Army Service to Conduct Meetings

Couple Leaving for Bay City Within Few Days

Pioneers of the great service to humanity that has been achieved by the Salvation Army, officially retired from duty, but still working for the Master, Col. and Capt. Walter F. Jenkins arrived in Los Angeles yesterday. They are at the Pigeon.

"Forty-six years of faithful happiness," said the colonel. "My wife was a captain before I was and has been my superior officer ever since."

Col. Jenkins is on his way to San Francisco where, although technically retired the last time, he will head a delegation of seventy-five officers of the Salvation Army at a national conference of social service workers on the 26th inst., which will be attended by 600 delegates from all parts of the United States. For the past eight years he has been national secretary of the army and second in command to Evangeline Booth.

DELIVERS EULOGY

He began his brief stay in Los Angeles with a eulogy yesterday afternoon at the funeral of Maj. Walter Lumby, superintendent of the Evangeline Home, who died on the 12th inst. He conducted a farewell service at the Citadel Corps headquarters, 123 East Fourth street, yesterday afternoon for Commandant and Mrs. Edgar Harris, who have been appointed to direct the army's large Evangeline residence for young women at Seattle. Last night both Col. and Mrs. Jenkins participated in the regular services at the Salvation Army Temple Corps No. 1, 622 West Ninth street.

"I joined the army by becoming a member of Regina Hall Corps, London, in February, 1892. Sixteen months later I was made an officer and it was there that I met my helpmeet," said Col. Jenkins. "Our relations may have been difficult at times, but from my experience I cannot conceive how peace and happiness on earth can be achieved by any other means. Men and women must respond to the dictates of their own inner consciousness, which is faith in God. Men are dormant until consciousness has been awakened. That marks the turning point."

Col. Jenkins pioneered for the Salvation Army in Montreal, Denver, Seattle, Oakland and San Francisco. "Materialism is rapidly becoming dominant," he says. "The pendulum is swinging the wrong way. There is much to be done."

HER SERVICE LONG

Capt. Jenkins joined the Salvation Army in Cumberland, Canada, on the border of Scotland, forty-nine years ago.

"I responded to the call for volunteers and have never regretted it," she said. "We have reared seven children, still have six of them and all are in the service of Christianity. The vanities of life I have never missed. My message to women is one of simplicity."

This morning at 11 o'clock Col. Jenkins will conduct a business conference at 522 West Ninth street and at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. he will speak to the Los Angeles Citadel Corps at 123 East Fourth street. Tomorrow afternoon he will address officers in a headquarters council. Wednesday he will conduct a united soldiers' meeting at 3 p.m.

Culver Family Starts on Air Journey Today

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Culver and daughter Patricia, in company with their pilot, Lieut. James H. Edwards, will take off in the Culver plane today at 11 a.m. for the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards in Boston the 25th to 28th inst. inclusive.

They will remain overnight at the Grand Canyon, flying into Colorado the next morning for two months and two weeks in that State; then proceeding through to Niagara Falls for the night, arriving in Boston on the evening of the 25th inst. Immediately after the convention Mr. Culver will continue on his fourth tour of two cities a day by way of the Northern States and Canada, completing the visitation of some several hundred cities in the interest of real estate ethics, aviation and civic betterment.

Mrs. Culver and Patricia will accompany Mr. Culver at certain intervals along the route. The party will return home the latter part of August.

Oil Field Fire Now Confined to Lone Well

Fire at the Santa Fe Springs oil field that threatened destruction of seven wells was confined to one blazing hole yesterday. Companies of fire fighters have been battling the blaze for five days and it started when a tank exploded and set fire to adjoining wells and derricks.

All the wells except two were put under control within a few hours. The two wells that continued to burn were the Robie No. 1 and the McKee No. 2. Friday the McKee well was subdued and yesterday morning the workers were able to approach close enough to pour sand into the hole. The Robie well, however, continues to burn with a glare that can be seen for many miles.

The operators are making plans to approach the burning well with a giant cup of steel.

England Has Cuckoo Week
England recently celebrated Cuckoo Week. It marked the arrival of the much-maligned bird that is always welcome there as it is a herald of spring. Fairs were held at Tisbury and Pershore, Shropshire, however, abandoned the custom of the farm hands laying off work for the day on which the first cuckoo is seen.

Condafar Returns With Theory That Fugitive Quit Ship Near Santa Barbara

Search for William L. Tallman, sought in connection with the murder of Mrs. Virginia Patsy, was centered back into the Los Angeles territory with the return from San Francisco of Detective-Lieutenant Condafar yesterday.

Condafar boarded the steamship Admiral Benson in San Francisco with the expectation of taking Tallman into custody. When the officers entered the state room where Tallman was supposed to be imprisoned they found it empty.

Upon his return to Los Angeles yesterday Condafar asserted his belief that Tallman left the boat before it reached a point along the coast near Santa Barbara. According to Capt. Sobst of the Admiral Benson he last talked to Tallman shortly after 6 p.m. on the day the boat left Los Angeles Harbor.

The captain told Condafar Tallman declared his innocence and agreed to become a prisoner. Three hours later Capt. Sobst ordered one of the crew to act as a sentry at Tallman's state room door.

Condafar, upon his return, had the towhee and was permitted by Chief of Detectives Cline to go to a dentist before making a complete report of his trip. He will make his report tomorrow, Chief Cline, said.

TALLMAN FUNDS REPORTED AT LOW EBB
SAN FRANCISCO, June 15. (Exclusive)—Don Biggers and William Wells, radio operators on the steamship Admiral Benson, were questioned by Detective-Captain Matheson today but furnished no clue, he announced, to the missing William L. Tallman. The only tangible thing obtained, Matheson said, was the statement by Tallman aboard ship that he had very little money.

A taxicab owner's tip to police last night that he had carried a man answering Tallman's description from the water front the day after his disappearance from the Admiral Benson, was traced down today. A man was found answering Tallman's description in a general way.

Lions on Way to Convention

Joining with approximately 100 delegates from Lions' clubs of the fourth district, leaders of Southern California organizations left on a Southern Pacific special yesterday for their international convention at Louisville, Ky.

Ray L. Riley of Sacramento, State Comptroller and incoming international president, headed the delegation from this district, which includes California, Nevada and Hawaii. A short stop will be made at El Paso, Tex., by the special train, after which it will proceed directly to Louisville, arriving there the 18th inst. in time for the opening meeting. The convention will continue until the 21st inst.

EARLY

BRIDES

Affairs of the Week

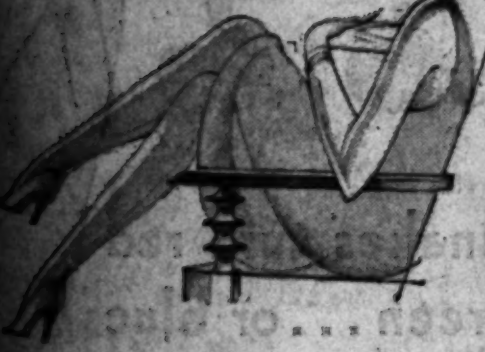

As the year as well as every year in every city and country is filled with the month of brides and weddings, although in sunny California the sunshine is perennial, one month apparently does not seem to have a more beautiful place over any other, yet some of our charmingest weddings were to have the old leaning toward this month, choosing a promise to any of the other eleven for their weddings. The background of flowering fragrant lilies of the valley blooming constantly, for the bridal bouquet, and as for garden weddings there isn't an equal in the world. Then, too, we have our Army and Navy, and many of our charming brides-elect have married into the service, making the uniforms with gold braid and buttons, the archway with drawn swords of brother officers for the bride and her attendants.

tendants to pass beneath, and the sword of the bridegroom with which to cut the bride's cake—all adding a special charm and romance to the effect. The church was beautifully decorated in tones of deep orange and nasturtium, with background of ferns and potted plants, and myriads of lighted tapers twinkling on the altar. One of the loveliest of the June weddings was that of the 8th inst., when at 4 p.m., Miss Statter, charming young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Statter of Hollywood, became the bride of Ensign Charles Russell Smith, U.S.N., the ceremony taking place in the lovely All Saint's Church of Hollywood with Rev. G. E. Swan officiating. The church was beautifully decorated in tones of deep orange and nasturtium, with background of ferns and potted plants, and myriads of lighted tapers twinkling on the altar. The dainty bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in an exquisite ensemble of beige lace and brown chiffon, a small matching hat completing the costume, while she carried an arm shower of gardenias and lilies of the valley. Further carrying out the color scheme of nasturtium and orange, the three bridesmaids' gowns were of chiffon shading from the deepest orange to palest yellow, fashioned somewhat after the frock of the bride, with full circular skirts and they all carried arms full of dahlias in the chosen shades of burnt orange and yellow. Picture hats of transparent mist chiffon to match their frocks added the artistic touch to the effect. The bridesmaids included Misses Gertrude Arthur, Katherine Irving and Dorothy Grannis. Edwin Smith of Phoenix, Ariz., served his brother as best man, while the ushers included Ensign John Henkle, U.S.N., and Hubbard Pearce Ringgold of Los Angeles. Another charmingly appointed wedding was that of Miss Sara Walsh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Homan Walsh of South Pasadena, and Allen Pardee, son of Mrs. Charles W. Pardee of Westworth avenue, Pasadena, the ceremony taking place several days in advance of the original date, as there was illness which called the parents of the bride east and the ceremony was therefore a quiet one, forty guests being hidden to the home of the bride's parents, and Rev. John Atwell officiated. Mr. and Mrs. Pardee left immediately for the West and the 8th inst. sailed for a honeymoon abroad. Miss Helen Mona Montgomery takes his bride to join the naval colony in Long Beach.

Mmes. Arthur Elton Huntington and James Alfred Curtis

ONE of the loveliest affairs of the month was the luncheon with which Mrs. James Alfred Curtis entertained at the Los Angeles Country Club in honor of Mrs.

Gala Fetes in Society whose engagement to Horace Blanchard Pearson, Jr. of Pasadena was announced Wednesday morning in The Times, was the only attendant, while John Krumler of Pasadena served Mr. Pearson as best man.

The bride was lovely in a gown of white satin with long train of chiffon and rose point lace, the veil of tulle being held in place by a spray of orange blossoms, and she carried roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley, while Miss Krumler wore a dainty chiton frock of rose pink and carried roses to match.

After their return in a month, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will make their home at 441 East Glenarm avenue, Pasadena.

Among the loveliest of the early June weddings was that of Miss Alice Brunson, daughter of Mrs. Sidney Hawks Woodruff of 608 South Rosemore avenue, and Lyman Maurice King, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Maurice King of Redlands. The ceremony taking place the 6th inst. in St. James's Church, Wilshire Boulevard, with Rev. Ray O. Miller officiating.

The church was transformed into a garden of white blossoms, the center aisle having tall single candles at the alternating pews, flower garlands linking the aisles with Easter lilies predominating. The chancel was banked with blossoms, palms and Easter lilies and hundreds of lighted tapers twinkled on the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Woodruff, wore an exquisite creation of ivory satin, with long tight-fitting bodice, yoke and long skirt of tulle, the lace being joined to the satin with seed pearls, and a court train of ivory satin edged with wide band of the lace.

The veil of tulle was caught into a Juliet cap of pearls, with clusters of orange blossoms at either side and she carried a shower of gardenias and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. James C. Lewis (Kathryn King of Redlands) sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and Miss Marion Nancy Baggs, Miss Helen Miss Shuen, Miss Adelaide Wilson, Miss Kneale Childs, Miss Marjorie Mullenbach and Miss Virginia Callender were bridesmaids.

Mrs. Lewis's gown was of conch shell chiffon and the bridesmaids were frocked alike in pastel shades of chiffon, all wearing close-fitting hats of horsehair braid to match their frocks and carried large showers of roses in the same matching shades.

Little Nancy Sinnicks, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick M. Longan, was the dainty flower girl in an old-fashioned French embroidered organdie gown over pink satin, with poke bonnet to match.

James C. Lewis served as best man and Malcolm Cameron, Cagge Irving, Stuart Mallock, Horace Castorius, Jr., and Frank Frye ushered. A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony, relatives and the bridal party only being bidden.

Mr. and Mrs. King are motoring north on their honeymoon planning to spend most of the time at Del Monte, Carmel by the Sea, and San Francisco and after their return will be at home in Knoll Road, Redlands.

Mrs. King was graduated from Marlborough School and since then has studied at University of California at Los Angeles, where she is a popular member of Pi Beta Phi sorority, while Mr. King, a member of a prominent family in Southern California, was graduated from the Naval Academy at Annapolis, class of 1926.

Miss Mariene Kathryn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Williams, became the bride of Franklin Van Tassel Pender, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Pender, at the Church of the Flowers, Tuesday, the 4th inst.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white tulle over ivory satin, with a wreath of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Nila Reid, maid of honor, wore a gown of peach taffeta and carried yellow roses. Jack Kerby served as best man and the ushers were Dr. Robert Mahoney and Victor Lewis.

Miss Violet Kolstad played the wedding march and accompanied Arthur Elton Huntington and Miss Winifred Huntington of Hollywood and Mrs. Howard Churchill of Pasadena, who are leaving shortly for an extended tour of Europe.

Mrs. Florence Lewis, who sang, "I Love You Truly," "Ave Maria" and "At Dawning," presiding the ceremony. The bride was graduated from the University of Iowa and is a member of Chi Omega Sorority, while Mr. Pender was graduated from the University of Southern California. The honeymoon will be passed in Yosemite and Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Pender will be at home to their friends after July 1, at 751 South Mariposa avenue.

Another wedding of the month which is of much interest to local society was that of Miss Mary Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Young Smith, who became the bride of Alexander Forest Smith, at a beautifully appointed ceremony in First Presbyterian Church, Figueroa street at Twentieth street with Rev. Hugh Kelso Walker, D. D., officiating.

Dr. David Wright presided at the organ and Alice Andrews Reilly gave a musical program, singing, "Because" and "My Heart is a Haven." To the strains of the wedding march the bridal party took its place at the altar where the bride was given in marriage by her father. White chiffon, bouffant style, with boucous of point d'esprit formed the gown of the bride, whose veil of tulle with full cape effect dotted with orange blossoms was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls and orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of gardenias, lilies of the valley and orchids.

Mrs. George Calk, matron of honor, wore a gown of green point d'esprit over taffeta trimmed with French flowers and a butterfly bow of peach faille taffeta ribbon the ends reaching to the floor. She carried a bouquet of Madam Dew roses and maidenhair fern.

Miss Margaret Smith, maid of honor, wore a gown of the same style of peach point d'esprit with butterfly bow of green faille ribbon, ends reaching to the floor and she carried a bouquet of Claudius Perret roses and maidenhair fern. The other attendants, Mrs. John Francis Ohmer, Mrs. John Hanna and Miss Mary Alexander were gowning alike in orchid point d'esprit over taffeta and carried bouquets of Irish elegance rose and maidenhair fern.

Little Catherine Low and Margery Smith, flower girls, were dainty in peach and green organdie dresses and carried small colonial bouquets. Leonard Keppeler was best man and the ushers included John Francis Ohmer, John Hanna, George Calk and Dr. Robert Smith.

The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of yellow gladioli, white lilies and palms with many cathedral candles.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents in Orenshaw Boulevard, for relatives and members of the bridal party.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith left for a honeymoon trip to Yosemite, and will be at home to their friends after July 1.

Mrs. J. C. Allen of Dallas, Tex., an aunt of the bride, came to Los Angeles to attend the wedding.

Miss Blanche Parent, attractive daughter of the late Hon. Jacques Parent of Winnipeg and Mrs. Parent of Hollywood, became the bride recently of William J. Walsh, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Walsh of North Orange avenue.

The morning ceremony in Blessed Sacrament Church being followed by a nuptial mass, with Rev. Father McHugh officiating.

The bride was lovely in a white chiton ensemble with studded rhinestones at collar and cuffs. The dress was of two folds of chiffon with train falling to the length of the skirt, and she wore a fitted white hat turned off the face with satin ribbon trimming.

Her sister, Mrs. Howard Cote of Beverly Hills, was matron of honor, wearing printed chiffon with blue and tan shades predominating. skirt long in back, tan transparent velvet coat, tan horsehair hat with lace trimming under the brim, and crepe slippers to match. She carried yellow roses in an arm bouquet. Harold Hurley served as best man.

Macdonald, with Rev. John M. Baxter officiating in the presence of 200 relatives and close friends.

The bride was attractively gowned in a white satin sleeveless gown with long, tight-fitting bodice, the uneven hemline skirt flaring in circular effect. Betrothal Tea
The Pacific Coast Club, Long Beach, was the scene yesterday of one of the loveliest of the early summer teas, when Mrs. J. Edward Haley of South Pasadena entertained with a beautifully appointed affair in honor of her attractive young daughter, Miss Margaret Browning Clark, the occasion also serving to formally announce the engagement of the young honoree to Carl Russell Trau, son of William C. Trau of Verdugo Woodlands.

Tea was served in the Garden Court of the club, being the first affair of the season there, and the names of the betrothed were found on scrolls hidden in the favors, which were rose petals in the pastel shades tied with lilies of the valley and tulle.

Miss Clark was charming in a bouffant gown of tulle in the orchid tones shading to deep pansy, with picture hat and slippers harmonizing and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of mixed flowers.

The decorations were charmingly carried out in summer flowers of the pastel shades, corsage bouquets of sweet peas in orchid and lavender with yellow rosettes in the center forming the place favors, and the announcement cards were hidden in the center of each bouquet. The wedding is to be an event of the fall, although no date is set as yet.

One of the loveliest affairs of the week was that given in honor of this year's graduates, with which Mrs. Howard Rathbun entertained twenty-four guests at a luncheon and bridge, the especially honored guest being Miss Lucile Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hill of Pasadena, who was graduated from Pasadena High School this week.

The table was beautifully decorated in yellow and green, the class colors, which were charmingly carried out in all the decorations and appointments.

Graduate-betrothed graduation dolls marked the place covers, those included being Miss Althea Hill, Mrs. Adeline Osborn, Miss Ruth Rogers, Miss Frances McMillan, Miss Marion Lawrence, Miss Kathryn Smith, Miss Ruth McAllister, Miss Frances Kinsey, Miss Martha Gilmer, Miss Margaret Lucas, Mrs. Elmer Wreden, Mrs. Gerald Knudsen, Mrs. Margaret Osborn, Mrs. Robert Carmichael, Mrs. Reed Archer, Mrs. Frank Barr, Mrs. C. Invitations Issued

Mrs. Clara Sayer is issuing invitations for the marriage of her daughter, Miss Myrtle Leonia Sayer, to Bruce Harold Dalton, the ceremony to take place Tuesday evening the 25th inst., at 8:30 o'clock in Pico Heights Congregational Church.

Lewis-Bray
One of the brilliant early summer weddings was that uniting Miss

Ernest Emma Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwin Lewis of 1021 South Wilton Place, and Dr. Uric Bannister Bray of Norwood, Ga.

The ceremony was performed in the Wilshire Boulevard Congregational Church the 15th inst., Dr. Jesse Ball of Santa Monica officiating in the presence of 800 guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a gown of princess lace over satin, with tight-fitting bodice and long sleeves, and the full skirt formed of two tiers of lace, long, and with the uneven hemline. A well of rare old duchesse lace was worn, with close lace slip fastened with orange blossoms and a white kid prayer book carried, heavily showered with lilies of the valley.

The color scheme of the attendants was cleverly carried out in tasteful shades, from pale gold to deepest russet, and instead of the conventional bouquets, garlands of lavender sweet peas were carried.

Miss Gladys Towles was maid of honor, wearing a frock of moire, and the bridesmaids, in ankle-length gowns, tight-fitting, bodices and skirts formed of layers of tulle, included Misses Wilma Lewis, Elizabeth Fawcett, Minna Wreden, Louise Rehbeck, Maude Hall and Pauline Mathew. The costumes were completed by small hats of maulines.

Little Jane Sutherland, in a bouffant frock of organza, was the flower girl and Warren Lewis, a nephew of the bride, carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped pillow.

Ernest Boring served as best man and the ushers were Dr. Norris Johnston, Dr. R. D. Merrill, Frank Root, Melbourne Lewis, brother of the bride, and Alexander Dollar.

Following the ceremony, a reception for eighty-five guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Dr. and Mrs. Bray left for an extended motor honeymoon.

The bride was graduated from the Los Angeles High School and the University of Southern California college of music, where she received her bachelor of music degree. She is a member of Alpha Gamma Delta and Phi Beta sororities, and the professional dramatic art fraternity. Dr. Bray was graduated from the Emory University at Atlanta, Ga., and received his bachelor of science degree there, taking his Ph.D. degree at Yale, where he was affiliated with the Sigma Xi, honorary scientific fraternity.

Entertain Houseguests

Mr. and Mrs. C. Montgomery Knox of Culver City are entertaining as houseguests Dr. and Mrs. Lindsey E. McNair of Jacksonville, Fla. The visitors are so delighted with the climate, countryside as well as beach and seaside resorts which Southern California offers, that they have decided to come to Los Angeles to make their future home.

Betrothal Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. McGrath of Wellington Road have announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lenora McGrath, to Gustave Chabert, the announcement taking place Thursday, at a beautifully appointed luncheon at the Club Casa Del Mar given by Miss McGrath and her sister, Miss Katherine McGrath, in honor of Miss Lenora Jones of Santa Monica, whose wedding is to be an event of this month.

The announcement was revealed to fifty guests by place cards which bore photographs of the engaged couple.

The table was decorated with candles and flowers, the color scheme being pink and green.

Both Miss McGrath and Mr. Chabert were graduated from the University of Southern California, Miss McGrath being affiliated with Phi Mu Sorority while Mr. Chabert, a member of the Gamma Epsilon Fraternity, was very active in athletics at U.S.C.

The wedding will be an event of the early autumn.

WARWICK HERO OF FIRE SCARE

Actor's Deed Inspires New Respect in Writer

Doldrums Hardly Relieved by Third-Rater

Summer Guarantee of Old "Rainbow Finish"

BY PERCY HAMMOND
NEW YORK, June 11.—The fire alarm at the Longacre Monday night, while soon pacified by Mr. Robert Warwick, should be a blessed omen that the drama itself is not the only peril possible to theatergoers. It has occurred to several gals observers that we are growing forgetful of other dangers that lurk in the precincts of the neighborhood, and that a jolt to our sense of self-maintained security would do us no harm. So life are the hazards of show business, both front and back, that we have little time to be fearful of holocausts and panics.

Now that it has been called to our attention by the scare at the Longacre, let us urge the drama's audience to be even more careful than usual. It seems incredible that the electric wiring of any theater should be permitted to misbehave. It did on Monday night at the Longacre, filling the auditorium with smoke and endangering the welfare of the first-nighters. Yet it is a fact that it did so. There we sat, more or less fascinated by the unfolding of a tale of bawdy and true love, only to have our raptures disturbed by threats of a catastrophe.

WISEST OF ALL
As I remained desperately quiescent in my chair, while my neighbors sought safety upon the sidewalk, I comforted myself by perusing Fire Commissioner Dorman's advice to the drama lovers, as printed at the top of the Longacre's play bill. "Look around and choose the nearest exit," says he—an admonition which makes him the wisest of the dramatic critics.

Mr. Warwick was rather splendid when the tiny panic was at its height. He assuring word came from the Longacre's indifferent management and it was up to him to allay the fevers of a Broadway public, well-nigh scared to death. As he bade us, impatiently, to be untroubled, he reminded me of that tragic Christmas matinee at the Dequoy Theater in Chicago several years ago, when the innocent Eddie May made a similar, though unsuccessful, address with the result that 600 or more playgoers who followed his counsel were burned to death. One trusts that the Longacre Theater hereafter will investigate the fire traps and make it safer for us to enjoy the privileges of drama lov-

HALLIDAY ALSO PLAY PRODUCER

Member of Two-Actor Cast Tells of Plans

He Put on "Spider," Talkies Hold Promise

"Jealousy" First Night a Real Ordeal

BY ALMA WHITTAKER
It's a terrifically nightful ordeal to play the role of the emotional suspicious jealous husband to Fay Bainter in "Jealousy" at the Mason. And much more exciting out here, "because I love to get up early in the morning in California, can't sleep after 7 a.m. yet I can no more make myself go to bed right after the performance than the average business man could put himself to bed at 5 p.m.," explains John, whose nervous touchiness in the play is therefore not all feigned. He rarely gets more than four hours' sleep.

John's first eighteen years were spent in England, although he is American. That accounts for his English accent. He was never on the stage there. In fact, he had been a mining promoter in Nevada and made $300,000 before the stage beckoned. It beckoned in the form of Nat Goodwin, who was John's cousin and laughingly said, "If you ever go broke, I'll give you a job as an actor." John duly went broke and wired Nat, who in return wired $100 and a job. Since which, oh well, you should hear John Halliday talk drama. . . . It's his very life blood.

FRIGHTENING FIRST NIGHT
"I shall always remember that terrific first night of this play, 'Jealousy' in New York. Only two characters. . . . everyone said, 'It could not be done. So the house was crammed with all the skeptics, producers, ticket sellers, actors, all the men who wanted to play my role, all the women who had wanted Fay's role, all the critics, all the snobs. . . . We could feel the cold wave of skeptical antagonism, almost venom, that waited up to us from the house. We actors are psychic, you know. We have to be. The first act left them fairly chilly. They warmed a little during the second—and after the third they let themselves go and gave us a triumphant applause. It really seemed out as one of our best artistic victories. Even the critics. . . . Here John frowned. Critics. . . . John has some pretty definite ideas about critics and their duty. . . . Few critics understand that their duty is to see for the multitude. . . . not to use a play to polish their wickerwork. To my mind, Alexander Woolcott is the best we have. That man is so sympathetic, so anxious to find good drama, that he is as nervous and keyed up as we are on a first night."

Talking of the late Alan Dale and his wife, John said, "but he once ignored my acting and concentrated on a tie, with college colors, which I had specially imported from England for the role. . . . That of an English college man, in my passion for accurate detail. . . . when, later, I met Dale. I started talking about his nose. I wouldn't leave his nose alone. I was sure he was quite right to be annoyed, his nose had nothing to do with his writing ability. . . . any more than a tie has to do with an actor's ability."

It is as a producer that John really prefers to be known. That is the branch of the drama he loves most. Before the year's run of "Jealousy" in New York, he produced and created the leading role in "The Spider," also writing part of the play himself. "I expect to reimburse my fortunes with 'Jealousy,'" he laughs, for one can have sizeable chunks on the producing end.

He is also negotiating with Winfield Sheehan to produce "A Gentleman of Fortune" for the talkies. "It's time they got away from the backstage stuff," he protests. I watched John make up for his role. . . . "I hate make-up," he says. "I have never got away from the idea that it is effeminate. But you see, our footlights are for women. . . . we have to use some make-up, to avoid too acute comparisons. I'm glad they are getting away from the backstage stuff. . . . John is a nice orderly minded person, very punctual, too. . . . and admits that it is just as well that his wife is not quite so meticulously orderly as himself. . . . We couldn't stand two in the family," he concludes humorously.

Much Comedy at Burbank

"French Fancies" opens at the Burbank Theater today and is promoted by Charles Fritcher, producer, to have many European novelty and dance creations. . . . It will give an opportunity to each individual girl of the ensemble to show her ability.

"French Fancies" will be a lavish affair and fantastic, with colorful costumes for the entire company. . . . It is further promised that Harry Van and Charles Fritcher, comedians, will offer comedy with a foreign twist. . . . Fay Norman, the personality girl, will offer new specialties.

Joan Rhodes has a routine with the ensemble of forty-five girls as a back ground. Curly Mason, diminutive comedienne, will introduce a surprise number, while Jane Hladik will again be heard in descriptive songs.

TITLE RELEASED
"The Dance of Life" will be the release title of Paramount's all-talking picture version of the stage success, "Burlesque."

Tagore Still MISUNDERSTOOD

Occident Refuses to Accept Poet's Teaching

Wells' Philosophy Akin to Indian Teacher's

Lyman Bryson Tells of His Bengal Associations

BY MYRA NYE

The persistent misunderstanding of Tagore, Indian poet, teacher and philosopher by the Occident is not a tragedy for the eastern poet himself, but a loss to those who fail to recognize his beauty of mind and spirit.

This opinion of LYMAN BRYSON, recently returned from Bengal, where he spent time at the Indian university of which Tagore is the founder and head, was outstanding in his address before the Friday Morning Club, when he spoke on "H. O. Wells and Tagore—a Comparison of Poetic Idealism."

According to Mr. Bryson, Tagore himself seeks no power and scarcely knows what the word means as it is used in England and the United States. When a newspaper headline in New York announced that Tagore says that India will be the leading world power at some future date, the poet had really said: "It is to be desired that whatever my country possesses in teaching or philosophy may at some time be of value to others besides ourselves."

FUTILE STRUGGLE

Tagore's big struggle to be understood in the United States has been futile with the masses, said the speaker, "but those who have caught even a glimpse of the richness of his mind, personality and spirit know a little of the valuable contribution he might make to the world."

Both Wells and Tagore, the former from the middle class of an occidental civilization and the latter of the family of princes in an oriental civilization, are agreed upon the fundamental of life philosophy, according to Mr. Bryson. "That chief fundamental is this: You have nothing unless you have God," he said.

Both of these men have come by their conclusions as to immortality and the worth of right living by different roads and they express their sentiments in greatly varied language. Mr. Bryson read from both of them to show that their ultimate conclusion is the same.

TAGORE AND WELLS

Tagore starts with the necessity of contemplation and ends with the best way to grow cabbage. Wells starts with cabbage and ends with the need for contemplation, declared the speaker. He told how Wells actually began his career teaching agriculture and believed until the World War that all problems could be solved by science as science is today. His experience in the war, however, showed him the need of straight thinking in action and righteous faith, while Tagore, on the other hand, teaches his pupils the need of contemplation and the greatest forward step in his university in Bengal is the teaching of agricultural methods to Indian peasants. He has sent to Cornell University for the greatest expert in agriculture for his teacher.

"The word 'service' has been worn out, and made ignominious by so many men and women rushing around to do service to someone or some place outside their own circle. A new word should be coined to mean the work done in one's own place and sphere to serve a cause or people. We should not serve an individual as our great altruistic work. We should just do our job the best way we know how in the place we belong," said the speaker. Club women are too prone to drop everything to go out to serve.

All this philosophy the speaker said he gleaned from Tagore and Wells.

It was a day rich in scientific lore of both mind and the material for this erudite club of women. The luncheon speaker was Dr. James A. Scherer, whose subject was "Our First Families," meaning the first Indians of the western continent, particularly the Southwest.

EVERYTHING INVESTIGATED

"We investigate everything except man," said the head of the Southwest Museum, whose main purpose is the study of anthropology of this continent. "We have zoology, botany, mineralogy, but few there are who give attention to anthropology. This is why we cannot control the forces of the many inventions and scientific discoveries of this generation," said Dr. Scherer.

"The American girl flappers' desire for chewing gum has brought about marvelous discoveries in South America. To get the chicle for Mr. Wrigley to make gum, out of the jungles of South America has been the incentive for the uncovering of the marvelous ancient temples rivaling the pyramids of Egypt."

D.A.R. MEETINGS PLANNED

Daughters of the American Revolution will devote several programs to the subject they deem vital, law enforcement, as President Hoover has urged, to the attention of every American citizen—this according to an announcement of Mrs. Emmet H. Wilson, State vice-regent, who is at the head of the councils in the southern part of the State. The last such council will be conducted by Mrs. Wilson Tuesday of this week at the Hotel Alexandria when the last reciprocity luncheon of the season will be given, with members from chapters as far south as San Diego in attendance.

Visiting daughters, as well as local chapter members, may make their reservation with Mrs. Robert Hoyt, 8018 Carlton Way, Hollywood telephone 8300. Mrs. Hoyt is the new reciprocity chairman, an office of considerable importance in D. A. R. circles. She takes the place of Mrs. Richard R. Russell, who has served for two years.

Judge Charles H. Fricks of the Superior Court and president of the Narcotic Research Association will be the chief speaker with the subject: "The Narcotic Evil and Its Relation to Crime." Dr. Thomas H. Joyce, head of the State Hospital for Narcotics at Spadra, will be another speaker.

JUNIORS GIVEN MESSAGE

Younger Members of Hadassah Hear Guests Tell of Need to Help Jews in Holy Land

Beautifully arranged and of consummate interest was the breakfast given last Sunday morning in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt by Junior Hadassah. Almost 100 members were in attendance.

Honored guests and speakers already gone back are doing better at farming than the Arabs. It is said that the Jews are a city people, but that's because they've had to be.

After thanking her fellow-officers and committee chairman for co-operation during the past year, Anne Chapman Manson, outgoing president, installed as the new president Pearl Rosenzweig, who in turn introduced those who will be her assistants. They include Regina Benno, first vice-president; Fanny Hikin, second vice-president; Hinda Clayman, recording secretary; Ida Dechter, corresponding secretary; Martha Rice, treasurer; Helen Gordon, Shomer; the executive committee, Susan Buchman, Shirley Burns, Bertha Blackman, Stella Goldfarb, Rae Lieberman, Ella Richman, Ruth Fox and Virginia Ross; and the standing committee, Anne Chapman Manson, Margaret Weiss, Edith Landes, Ida Wolfe, Cella Forst, Della Goday, Anne Adelson, Regina Lindenbaum, Pauline Scharf, Dorothy Fox, Ruth Schwartz and Sylvia Hurlitz.

Tel-a-viv, another city being built by the Jewish people, Mrs. Rodman compared to Los Angeles, calling it "a mushroom growth" of more than 50,000 inhabitants when she visited it.

"That was a year ago, so it probably has 100,000 now," she said.

Junior Hadassah, she believes, should be prepared to make great sacrifices for the success of the project, since the obligation of those who remain at home should be the greater. "In Jerusalem those workers are away from bathtubs, gas stoves and all other conveniences. They are even away from their own people. They have given up all chance for personal advancement. Only the spirit of adventure carries them on. Surely, then, you can give up a few dollars that you otherwise would spend on a silly feather for your next winter's hat," she continued. "But the Jews who have

FOUNDER OF MUSIC CLUB WILL MARK

Bathrocal Anniversary of Annual Meeting

Most significant and of all that happened in the full annual meeting of the Musical Club was the 25th anniversary of the founding of the club, which was marked by a special program of music and a luncheon given in honor of the club's founder, Mrs. William Greerley. The club was founded in 1909 by Mrs. Greerley, who was then a young woman, and has since that time grown to become one of the most important musical organizations in Los Angeles. The annual meeting was held at the Hotel Alexandria and was attended by a large number of guests. The program featured a variety of musical selections, including songs, piano and violin pieces. The luncheon was a delightful affair, with Mrs. Greerley presiding. The club's 25th anniversary is a cause for celebration, and the members of the club are proud of their long and successful history.

At the federation luncheon Tuesday, when the seventy-fifth anniversary of the beginning of the party was celebrated, the noteworthy musical program was given by the members of the junior group. They were presided over by Mrs. Gladys Towle, charming Mrs. Juanita Benoit, who sang a group of songs. Mrs. Jeanette R. Long, talented violinist, and Miss Dorothy Youell were also on the program.

THEME SONG PROVES HIT AS WALTZ

Tune! Melody of "Four Devils" Slips Into Favor as Popular Piece

The latest popular waltz, which is being sung, whistled and hummed all over town, is Erno Rappe's "Four Devils," written as a theme song for Janet Gaynor in her first talking picture, "Four Devils," now having its premier western showing at the Fox Carthay Circle Theater.

"Four Devils" is the name of the little circus acrobat, the character as depicted by Miss Gaynor in this Fox-Murnau feature, and the song number weaves its way through the score for the picture in a most entertaining manner, and bids fair to enjoy the same popularity of Rappe's other hits, "Angels' Mia," "Charmaigne" and "Diane."

"Four Devils" is playing to capacity audiences daily at the Fox Circle, and Managing Director Carl Klorer has surrounded it with a supporting program of unusual merit, including the first appearance of Movietone of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, discussing his famous fiction detective, Sherlock Holmes, and also giving his views on the subject of spiritualism, on which he is reputed the greatest living authority.

Film Portrays Dancers' Lives

Fred Waring and his Pennsylvania Squires are seen and heard in "Symposium," the all-talking, singing and dancing feature showing for the week on Laramie's Alhambra Theater screen.

The picture portrays the lives of two Broadway dancers who go through heartaches and poverty in a climb to success and happiness. Several popular musical hits are played and sung during the course of the film.

Alaskan Mush Dogs Seen on Orpheum Bill

Blomberg's Alaskans, at the Orpheum this week, are not circus dogs, but real sled canines from Alaska. Some are malamutes, others are huskies. Among them, it is related, are dogs whom Sepalla drove through to Nome in his classic battle to get serum to dying Alaskan settlers.

"Big Bill Blomberg, a trapper and 'musher' from Northern Minnesota, who until a year ago had spent all his life in the frozen wastes of Alaska and Canada, is presenting the dogs in vaudeville. Tired of sledging supplies to lonely northwest settlements, Blomberg set out to see the world. With his favorite pack of dogs running in harness, a few extra dogs running loose behind and four puppies carried on the sled, he gyped down from the northern wilderness to discover cities, railroads and crowds.

"It was thrilling," says Bill. "As I traveled I found I was becoming sort of a legend. Through parts of Canada and Northern United States when moving, at night, I would see little lanterns dotting the yards of places I passed. They had heard about my trip and many even set up to see us pass."

Through Milwaukee and Chicago, hundreds of motor cars followed us."

It was in Chicago that theatrical impresario stumbled over one another trying to sign up Blomberg, who didn't—in fact, still doesn't—care about the stage. It is, he confesses, only the great affection American theatergoers show for his dogs that keeps him behind the footlights.

Among his performing troupe are five black "huskies" that are part Alaskan wolf, and two snow-white dogs descended from the silver fox. But he travels with a dozen or more dogs, besides.

The book is translated from the French by Margaret Reed.

BRYAN. By M. R. Werner. Harcourt, Brace & Co., New York.

This might be called a slam-bang story of the Great Commoner. It deals with Bryan in the manner that newspaper paragraphs found so enticing and establishes Mr. Werner's status as a caricaturist while adding nothing to his reputation as a biographer.

If there is anything in this volume that may be considered a contribution to the literature of Bryan—there is such a literature and it will grow as time passes—it is in the clear and direct account of the freer and less and the part Bryan played in it.

Regardless of what we think of Bryan, he was a vital force in American political life for a matter of thirty years. He was one of the dominant forces in the Democratic party. He led that party in three national campaigns and it was Bryan who made Wilson's nomination possible at Baltimore in 1912. But Bryan was not content to be merely a political leader. He became a crusader for orthodox religious teaching and thus helped to confirm thousands of others who mistook the trappings of religion for the reality.

It is all very well for Mr. Werner to portray him as a mountebank and a fraud, but the fact remains that Bryan, while the crowd that cheered him blindly voted for his opponent, nevertheless maintained his influence, which was felt more than once when the successful leaders were hard pressed and had to appeal to Bryan for aid. That he responded is well proven by his giving McKinley the necessary Democratic support in his Philippine policy, a policy which Bryan totally disagreed with, but which he acquiesced in for purely patriotic reasons.

That Bryan was possessed of greater qualities of mind and heart than Mr. Werner is willing to credit him with any student of the age may discern for himself. With all the raging storm of opposition he breathed, he seldom lost his poise, though in his later years, particularly in the famous trial at Dayton, Tenn., he seems to have completely lost his sense of humor.

A GROUP OF RECENT BOOKS

It likewise reveals some of the darker side of police methods, particularly of the "third degree," which barbarous custom is just now agitating the more serious citizens who see in it a decided danger.

There is a good story of the attempt of the publishers of a bi-monthly sheet to force an "old-timer" to contribute through the medium of "advertising," as the price of the paper's silence. How he applied the "suspense" pressure to these two accountants makes a good story, graphically told.

Novelties, Ideas, and Suggestions

By OLIVE GRAY

BY OLIVE GRAY

The wedding gift, above all others, should be chosen lovingly. Not selected perfunctorily, merely because a gift must be, but with truly altruistic thought; that thought which projects itself into the future welfare, happiness of the recipient. For, it should be realized, such a gift is to form part of a home and should be equipped to do its share—however great or small—in creating the atmosphere of that home. Some believe that every object, however seemingly inanimate, possesses personality and influences that which it contacts. However this may be, the object chosen as a wedding gift has a definite responsibility, in the home it is to enter.

A Timely Gift

What more essential to the home than a good clock. All human labor, yes, and pleasures, too, are dependent upon time. To be on time at the office, a requisite of business success; to be on time at the club—if the woman is a club member; to be on time for all appointments, a simple justice to those with whom we associate. Hence a good clock is certain to prove a valuable member of any household. So, what more truly helpful gift to bride or groom, than a fine time-piece? Or even a "more" one, if it fits into the color scheme of some special room. Many of the plain little alarm clocks, today take on beauty of ornamentation, thereby making themselves as dainty as useful.

"Let Your Light So Shine"

Next in value, I think I would place the lamp. Or we might say "lamps," since no home can possess too many. And what home is complete without one or more? Lamps for living-room, lamps for dining-room, lamps for the boudoir, lamps for the bedside—lamps, oh everywhere. And lamps of every kind. Lamps with pottery bases, lamps with glass, crystal clear or tinted; lamps of metal, lamps of wood. And shades in variety equaling that of the lamp bases. Tall lamps, short lamps; lamps round, lamps slender; squatly lamps, lamps

Village Held Superb Setting for Fine Drama

"The best place to find characters to study for stage portraits is a small town," asserts Edward McWade, who appears with the Henry Duffy Players in "Skidding" at the President Theater.

McWade speaks from experience, as he has written numerous plays, of which "Winchester," a drama of the Civil War, was popular for many seasons.

"The rural type of character has endured through generations and it will continue to endure," asserts McWade. "James Gleason realized this in 'The Shannons,' and so contrasted the vaudeville couple with the shy lawyer, the brakeman, the village Shylock, the poolroom looser and the other characters you will find in a small New England town."

"If I were to give advice to a young playwright I would say to him: 'Go to some small town. Spend at least six months there. Become a member of the community and learn something about your fellow-citizens. There is more drama going on in a small town than in the busy, rushing life of city dwellers who live more or less according to pattern."

"Rip Van Winkle," in which my father starred for seasons, was a story of a village in the Catskills. 'Lightnin' was a story of a small town on the border line between Nevada and California. 'Way Down East' was about rural New England. 'Shore Acres' was a rural play. They have endured through the years. Our better modern comedies of the type of 'New Brooms,' 'The Patry,' 'Pig,' 'Tommy' and 'Kiddie,' as is 'Skidding,' in which I am now playing."

These are the types audiences like to see on the stage, because they are every-day people, easily recognizable by those who watch them."

What Do You Know About Weighted Silks?

An Editorial by Bullock's Silk Section---on a Subject of Vital Concern to Every Woman Who Buys Silks

How can you tell whether the Silk you buy is weighted?

If Silk is excessively weighted, it will not give honest wear. Perhaps the first dry cleaning will take the life from it.

A certain amount of weighting is sometimes desirable, contributing to the draping quality of Silk. But over-weighting is ruinous.

It is well nigh impossible for the casual purchaser to determine the amount of weighting in Silk. Often, a customer mistakes a heavily weighted Silk as being preferable to a more lightly weighted Silk, necessarily higher priced. She judges by weight alone, often a misleading guide.

So serious has the situation become, that eleven trade bodies recently joined forces to set a standard for Silk weighting. It is this standard that Bullock's uses to protect its patrons.

Every Bullock order for weighted Silks is stamped with this proviso: "This order is given with the understanding that all Silks used in filling this order for Bullock's shall conform to the approved standards for weighting as adopted by the Silk Association of America."

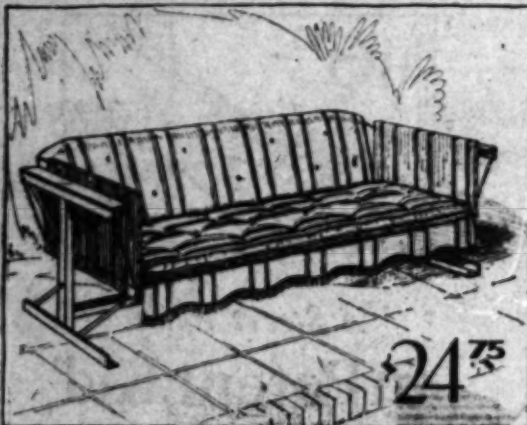

Bullock's jealous guarding of its reputation for "Quality Silks Always" is your insurance—your silk protection. Bullock's also stresses a very fine stock of Pure Dye Silk, entirely free from weighting.

SUGAR and SPICE
by Alma Whitaker

"AND I GET MUZZED WHEN I ONLY FALL OFF A TINY LITTLE STEPLADDER!"

"YOU KNOW THAT AIR OF FINALITY IN ALL THAT HE SAYS!"

OF COURSE I'm awfully glad she wasn't mangled up and all that but Janet Gaynor did manage to maintain a most delightfully intact beauty, even to an unruffled coiffure, when she fell off that dome trapeze in "The Four Devils." And I got muzzed when I fell off a teeny little stepladder! There certainly is not any diminution in the crowds that line Peacock Alley on grand premiere openings. I noticed numerous highly respectable citizens waiting meekly for hours to watch the stars go by. One day they should announce these instead of the picture celebrities . . . the list would include clubwomen, church people, well-known business people . . . and even a society flapper or two.

Said one young man to his mamma, "Oes, I can't tell whether that girl has stockings on or not," meaning Myrna Kennedy.

"Don't bother, dear, there is no reason why you should," suggested mamma.

The path of duty, generally pleasant, took me to interview Fay Bainter at the Casa del Mar Beach Club. It so happened that my first interview that day, with Sir Gilbert Parker, had necessitated a light and alarmingly early breakfast. My date with Fay was 1 p.m., and I arrived at the club at 12:30. Good, just in time for the rest of that breakfast. But alas, I was not a member. Meekly, modestly, I begged to be permitted to buy a lunch. I was assured it simply could not be done. I protested, and was turned down by three successive officials, with hauteur.

But, anyway, the bellboy who conducted me to Fay fed my starving heart with some sweet flatery. He read me, he was glad to meet me. So, if my tummy was turned hungry away, at least my vanity was fed. So charming when there is one resident gentleman. And, thank Heaven, Fay was adorable.

Sir Gilbert Parker may be Canadian born, but he is very, very British. You know, that air of finality in all that he says. And his well-groomed beard and his sartorial excellence. Hollywood will be interested to be reminded that way back in 1884, in the youthful pre-knighthood days, Sir Gilbert wrote a book of poems called "Love's Diary." Besides some twenty-two books, Sir Gilbert graced the British House of Commons for eighteen years. He opposed woman's suffrage as only a die-hard Conservative could. He shudders at the recent "sapper vote," meaning women over 21 and under 30, by which we learned England has 5,000,000 of 'em. Still, Sir Gilbert approves of sappers without votes. It was in 1915 that the baronetcy was conferred. He is a member of a nice variety of London clubs . . . the Athenaeum, favored by bishops; the Carlton, where peers register their sons when they are born; the Garrick, of Bohemian genre; the Beef-steak Club, very sporty, and the Authors' Club, nice and literary.

Mrs. Helen Holt, that most attractive, brainy roving woman who is so uniting on behalf of the California Development Association, was down from San Francisco last week. There was a wistful look about her, and soon she was telling about a lovely mountain apple orchard she had acquired. And by and by she was questioning whether woman's place was not in the home after all—with babies and apple orchards.

Still, that won't prevent most of us from continuing to try to have both careers—and babies and apple orchards. It isn't fair to catch us in our weaker moments.

Hansina Fredericksen graduates from U.C.L.A. with credit this term, majoring in commercial art. She is also largely responsible for that stylish year book just out, having been chief compiler thereof.

Hansina is one of the four particularly nice children of Judge and Mrs. Fredericksen. We newspaper women are especially proud of Jane, their writing mamma, who is one of the dears who has so successfully combined careers and motherhood. Jane has performed miracles. It immediately became a stylish occasion, when Mr. and Mrs. Doug-

One Agnes Bernell is executive secretary of the State Federation. I have yet to meet her, but interesting tit-bits float in. It seems she specializes in having known pretty well everyone worth knowing and having traveled everywhere worth traveling to . . .

Ah, yes, and Lady Heath, the English aviator, does her country credit. She looks just as a peeress aviator should look. All the sports editors have fallen in love with her. Tall, easy-mannered, frank, tailored, carries herself well, lovely complexion, no apparent make-up. She attracted all eyes as she floated through the Baltimore and that sea of Shriners to the aviation luncheon in her honor.

Charles Wagner, manager for such starchy ones as Mary Garden, John McCormack, Gail-Curt, et al., calls Morris Gest "The weeping willow of the theater." It seems Morris just weeps his way to glory, weeps people into supporting him, weeps artists into working for him, and simply soaks his successes in tears. He certainly went "The Miracle" triumphantly round the country.

We admit to having been frequently disappointed in the wires of

Interesting Trip
Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niblo (Edith Bennett) are enjoying a motor trip to Lake Louise, Banff and New York. They will be away for about two weeks, returning by boat via the Panama Canal.

After-Theater Party
Edna Hibbard, star of "Let Us Be Gay," at the Mayan, entertained in her new home in Rutherford Drive last evening after the performance. Covers were laid for thirty guests.

Dinner-Dance
Honoring Doug Dawson, an enjoyable dinner-dance was given Saturday evening of last week at the Sea Breeze Beach Club by J. L. Carruthers. Unique place cards and deep crimson roses marked places for Helen Twilvelores, Jean Mansfield, Jewel Gay, Robert Kirkwood, F. Gerald Franklin, Edmund Everett, the honoree and the host.

Baroness in Honoree
Kathryn Givney was hostess Friday afternoon at tea in her Orange Drive home, for several members of the cast of "Dancing Mothers," in which she is appearing at the El Capitan. Baroness Fern Andrea, famous U.F.A. star from Berlin, was the guest of honor.

Miss Bronson Travelling
Betty Bronson, accompanied by her brother, Frank Bronson, a junior student at Stanford University, sailed yesterday from New York for London, aboard the Homeric. They will attend the commencement exercises at Oxford, and then go to the Lido for three or four weeks.

Visiting Parents
A visitor here from New York is Lila Georgy, who has come to Hollywood for a vacation with her parents, Major, the caricaturist, and Mrs. Major. Miss Georgy is well-known on the New York stage.

Philadelphians Entertained
Entertaining for several friends from Philadelphia, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Schallert were luncheon hosts of recent date at the Montmartre. In the party were Mrs. Walter F. Fancourt, wife of the President of the Lulu Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Archer McCall and Mrs. B. D. Kauffman.

Bride-elect Feted
Adamae Vaughn, whose engagement to the Viscount D'Anvray of France has been announced, was the honored guest at a dinner given last Sunday evening at Miss Helene's Rose Villa, Flintridge, by her sister, Alberta Vaughn. Places were marked for Suzanne Duval, Adele Bartlett, Mignon Muselle, Flora Pryde, Richard Forrest, Randolph Preston, H. Stuart Wendell, Tom Jackson and Viscount D'Anvray.

Rosevelt Dinner
The celebration of her birthday anniversary and the completion of her first talking picture was the dual motif for a small dinner party given recently in the Blossom Room of the Roosevelt for Margaret Eller by Louise Burke of Pasadena. A large bowl of red roses adorned the center of the table, and place cards were attached to a single rose at each place.

Birthday Celebration
Mr. and Mrs. Pat O'Malley were hosts at a delightful party last Saturday afternoon in celebration of the twelfth birthday anniversary of their eldest daughter, Eileen O'Malley. The young guests first were entertained at a matinee, after which supper was served in the O'Malley residence, where a long table was beautifully decorated with pink roses and pink baskets at each place.

For Producer
Complimenting Robert Flaherty, who left Tuesday for Tahiti, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Matiesen entertained the first of the week in their forest home at Oak Crest. Among the guests were Commodore and Mrs. J. Stuart Blackton, Baron and Baroness von Brincken, Mrs. David Flaherty, Marion Nixon, Dalia Magania, Andre de Segurois, Stuart Holmes, Alan Crowland, Douglas Gerrard, Henry Olive, Charles Klein, Gen. Lotjensky and Leo Birinsky.

Informal Supper
An informal supper party followed by bridge was given last Sunday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Stubbs in their Highland avenue home, one of the interesting features of the affair being the introduction of character readings through the medium of psychoanalysis, which proved a fascinating diversion.

In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Proctor, Julia Dean, William J. Camp, Lister Chambers and others.

Luncheon Hostess
Mrs. Buddy Wattles (Diane Thompson) entertained Friday at Madame Helene's Paramount Tea Room, having as her luncheon guests Priscilla Bonner, Joan Meredith and Barbara Luddy.

Farewell Affair
In the nature of a farewell affair was the buffet supper with which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Richardson entertained a dozen friends Saturday evening of last week in their home in North Kenmore avenue, since they are moving shortly into a new home on Lake Hollywood Drive, Hollywood Knolls. They will then be neighbors of Creighton Hale, Robert Haas and George Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Noy were honored guests of the affair.

Creations Caught at Club Dance

Three Pictureland Stars

THE last Mayfair Club ball provided the inspiration for some of the most exquisite gowns seen in Cinemaland this season. Caught in pen and ink at the left is the creation chosen by Loretta Young, Wampas baby star of 1929, for the occasion, a model of white satin beaded in little triangular designs, with a long panel of tulle trailing from the back. Huge flat flowers of tulle adorned the gown down the left back shoulder and across the hips.

BUSINESS AIDS GIVEN WRITERS

American, Mercury, Cosmopolitan, Red Book, and possibly two or three others.

EDITORS AGREE ON FACTS
I have been on a long automobile trip with two well-known editors, Philip Townsend Hanna of the fast-growing and influential Touring Topics, published in Los Angeles, and Frederick Simpich, one of the editors of the Geographic. They both agree on these facts. Both magazines get manuscripts by tube and wagon loads. Nearly all of them go back for these reasons: About 50 per cent are written by amateurs who do not know how to write. Just about as successful as a drug clerk would be in trying to perform an operation for appendicitis.

Of the remaining 50 per cent, say about half, are about half good. That is to say, they are good in spots. Usually they show good writing from authors who obviously have nothing to say; or get the facts wrong. Of the 25 per cent that remains after the inept have been thrown out, at least 20 per cent are stories that are not in keeping with the needs of the magazine. Some are entirely out of line with the policy of the magazine; some are stories on lines too near stories that have been published or are about to be published.

The remaining 5 per cent could be used if there were space enough. But there isn't. Many good stories go back because the magazine just has too much stuff on hand. Do they really need the stuff? They do. Every editor lives days and nights of terror for fear he is going to turn down a Kipling. Often a story starts badly, but ends up with a wallop and can be rewritten after consultation with the author. For this reason, every reasonably hopeful story is read all the way through.

Simpich told me how, in his early days, he got a story back from the Post—returned with a two-page letter of suggestion. When he really gets a top notch story, the heart of the editor leaps with joy. Editors say there is no thrill like it. Simpich says it is a common sight to see one of the grave and dignified editors of Geographic rushing into a colleague's office with a story in his hand—so enthusiastic he can't sit still. At the editorial luncheon, it is not unusual for one of the staff to bring with him the manuscript of a good story and read parts of it aloud amid general rejoicing.

BEGINNERS START SMALL

The prices paid by the magazines are nothing to brag about. Even the Post starts the new authors in at a very mild figure. The rate on that magazine is progressive—rises as they take more stories. Some of the very exclusive magazines like the American Mercury pay almost microscopically. The rate at the Mercury is said to be steadily at $100. Writers contribute to it eagerly for the good it will do them in the literary market. Much of the staff in the New Yorker is said to be contributed free by authors who want the advertisement.

A very few authors for the slicks get into the big money. Writing for the pulps is an entirely different game. The pulps are the cheap magazines of adventure, confessions and so on. They pay starvation rates, but buy a lot of it. Much of their material is bought at 1/4 to 1 cent a word. Some pulp authors like Ted T. Flynn of Santa Fe draw down as much as 7 cents per word.

To be a pulp is to turn out incredible quantities of fiction. The best pulp writers do 100,000 words stage folk, many denied a living to their own line, who have found appreciation, applause and affluence in this new one, willingly throw away the opportunity they have dug up for themselves at the behest of a union which not only did nothing to bring this about for them, but now is playing a "dog-in-the-manger" role that it may continue to dominate them, to its own advantage and that of affiliated unions? Will they defy the studios and thus bite the hand that fed them when their own could not offer even husks? Will they note the condition that their own beloved "legitimate stage" has been put into through just such methods as this, and still stand for being the goats?

FILM JOBS BALK EQUITY THREAT

CEBALLOS USES MANY DANCERS IN TALKIES

Larry Ceballos, dance director of the Warner Brothers studios, is said to use more professional dancers for talking musical comedies than any other dance director in the motion-picture industry. Ceballos insists that all the girls he uses in his production have a thorough training in acrobatic, ballet and tap dancing before he will engage them. Sam Mintz, who is in charge of the acrobatic classes at the Earle Wallace studios of the stage, was associated with Larry Ceballos for more than four years, touring the leading vaudeville circuits of the country.
